Sugar Scarcity Only Temporary

Union Deputy Food Minister Thomas stated yesterday that the shortage of sugar, now experienced in various parts of the country following the promulgation of the Sugar Control Order, would only be temporary.

He said that when new stocks released from the factories reached the various places and greater control over distribution was exercised, things would necessarily improve.

Sri Thomas pointed out that there were more than a lakh tons of sugar with the trade when the Control Order was issued by the Government and this had been purchased at higher prices than the rate fixed by the Government. It might be, he said, that these stocks had gone underground.

He added that it was up to the State Governments to take stern steps under the Defence of India Rules against the trade when it indulged in cornering sugar stocks, especially now that sugar trade had been licensed.

He said that the Sugar Control Order was absolutely necessary, because they wanted to restrict its consumption within the country to some extent. "We have reached a stage when Indian sugar can be exported without loss".

He said that the present stocks totalled about 30 lakh tons and even allowing for exports there would be still about 25 to 26 lakh tons of sugar for internal consumption.

An artificial scarcity has beed created by traders who thought that since the international price of sugar had gone up they could earn greater profits. "We shall see that a curb is put on this profit-making tendency and we shall set up fair price shops", he added.

Prime Minister Nehru informed the Lok Sabha that the U.S. Secretary of State Mr. Rusk and British Commonwealth Secretary Mr. Sandys had "made it clear to me" during the recent talks in Delhi that arms aid to India was not linked with a settlement of the Indo-Pakistan differences including those over Kashmir.

While assuring India of U.S. sympathy and support against the Chinese threat, Mr. Rusk made it clear that there could be no question of compromising with the threat.

Judicial Probe Into Malaviya Deal

A Supreme Court judge will hold a quasi-judicial inquiry into the dealings of the Minister of Mines and Oil K. D. Malaviya with the Calcutta firm Serajuddin Company.

Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament that he had requested the Chief Justice of Supreme Court to nominate a judge who might be entrusted with the inquiry in regard to the entries in the Company's papers relating to Sri Malaviya.

He said that he had taken this step in accordance with the advice of the Attorney-General, who was asked by him to look into the Malaviya affair.

The Attorney-General could not, in the circumstances, carry out any full enquiry because he had to proceed on the limited materials before him.

He made it clear that the report of the Supreme Court judge would not be placed before Parliament.

Sri Nehru disclosed that Sri Malaviya had offered to resign about five weeks ago when the matter first came up before him. But he advised Malaviya not to resign. "I told him that the question did not arise and he should continue. I do not think the question arose then and even now. It is upto the Prime Minister to consided it when it arises. I do not think it arises now".

RS. 40-CRORE CENTRAL LOAN SOUGHT

FOR FARM PLANS IN MYSORE

Mysore, May 10

Chief Minister Nijalingappa revealed here yesterday that the State Government had asked the Centre for a loan of Rs. 40 crores to push through some of the more urgent agricultural programmes.

Inaugurating a two-day farmers' training and study camp, organised by the Mysore District Farmers' Forum, he called upon the farmers to increase food production by resorting to modern methods of cultivation.

It was regretable, he said, that agriculture in the country, the biggest industry, where about 80 per cent of the people were engaged, was so disorganised. He asked the tillers to unite and have an organised strength to solve their problems.

With the population increasing enormously and the pressure on space increasing owing to rapid industrialisation, the only hope was intensive cultivation over the limited lands available, he added.

The Chief Minister, was, however, against the destruction of forests for getting more area for agriculture. In fact, it was imperative that the forest wealth was substantially increased.

Sri Nijalingappa expressed the Government's anxiety to help the farmers to the maximum extent through large scale, medium and minor irrigation projects. About 50,000 irrigation wells would be sunk in the State in the next three or four years. Here he appealed to the beneficiaries of irrigation projects in joining hands with the Government to undertake projects by advancing loans.

Sri K. Puttaswamy, Minister for Municipal Administration, who presided, regretted that the farmers were not making proper use of co-operatives for their requirements. He wanted that farmers should unite themselves like trade union for collective bargaining.

Pointing out that many co-operatives in Mysore District were defaulters to the Government, he asked them to clear their debts so that the Government would be in a position to help the poor and the needy.

Earlier, Sri Jayadevaraja Urs, President of the Mysore Taluk Board welcomed the gathering.

SUGAR POSITION WORSENING

PEOPLE DISAPPOINTED EVERYWHERE

Mysore, May 13

The citizens of Mysore City have been still facing crisis in obtaining sugar. In spite of Government's repeated assurances of sufficient supply of stocks to co-operatives and retail sellers, many have not been able to secure even an ounce of sugar anywhere. There are hundreds of instances where people are wondering from place, from society to society for days together and coming out disappointed. In one or two places, many had to wait for over 3 to 4 hours in the que to secure a little quantity. Atlast some have returned with empty hands with some plea or other played by the seller. In a few co-operative societies people are being asked to purchase wheat, rice or some other commodity, even if it is not wanted and then they are given one or half kg of sugar.

Sufficient vigilence does not seem to have been kept over the distribution. It has been felt that more fair-price depots should be opened and some offices, schools and other bodies are supplied sugar direct from the Central depot, which in turn could distribute among their staff at the fixed price and thus ease the situation

Administrative Way!

Bangalore, May. 20

A man who lived in retirement for 18 years without getting a pie as pension, died in despair recently.

He told the officers that these and countless other complaints like them had left him "thoroughly dissatisfied" with the way the administrative machinery moved. "it is an ugly black mark on the Government and the people are justified in expressing their despair".

Such dilatoriness in the disposal of files was rampant particularly in the disposal of darkasth' of land, more so in the old Mysore area. "People will go their way if you say yes or no. I don's know what great difficulty there is in giving such a simple answer".

Traders & States Blamed For Sugar Crisis

Union Deputy Food Minister Thomas has blamed the traders and the States for the present sugar muddle in the country.

He said that taking advantage of the situation, abnormal profits had been made by many traders. During a period of emergency particularly, they should not have behaved as they did. He asked them to take note of the situation.

To obviate distress that might be caused by the sugar control, the Central had planned in advance and about four months back had told the State Governments that they should licence the sugar trade because of drop in sugar production. "There should have been in various States, machinery for distribution of sugar," he added.

He said it had been a "rude shock to us" that the sugar trade behaved in the way they did after control on sugar was introduced. It was a bitter experience for the Central and State Governments.

Sri Thomas said there was general paucity of sugar in all the countries of the world and India was comparatively better off in the matter of sugar production.

India has protested to Peking against the intrusion by Chinese soliders in the Longju area of NEFA on April 26.

The Government of India in a protest note has stated that 20 Chinese in blue uniform came to a place south of Longju. Ten members of the party came to about three miles south of Longju and stayed there from morning to afternoon.

The note said the intrusion was patently contrary to China's professed aims of finding a peaceful solution to India China differences and designed surely to foment tension between the two countries.

The unwarranted violation of Indian territory "clearly exposes the hollowness of the Chinese claims that Chinese Army had completed their plan of withdrawals 20 kilometres away from the so-called line of actual control unilaterally fixed by the Chinese Government, the Indian note added.

MINERALS EXPORT

Bangalore, May. 31

India earned Rs. 447 million in foreign exchange by exporting minerals during 1962, said Sri. K.D. Malaviya, Union Minister for Mines and Fuel, and Chairman of the Mineral Advisory Board meeting, here yesterday.

Sri Malaviya said: The production of minerals which amounted to about Rs. 716 million during 1950, had increased to Rs 944 million in 1955 and had sharply risen to Rs. 1962 million by the end of 1960. The increase has been maintained in the last two years and the mineral production during 1962 was Rs. 1868 million over the figure for 1960, or an increase of 12 per cent.

He said successful implementation of the Third Five-Year Plan, would be largely determined by the amount of external resources that we could earn by increased exports. It was, therefore, all the more necessary that our skill and and ingenuity should be applied in greater measure to the drive for a massive export of minerals. The problem was one of not only increasing production but of making the costs of production sufficiently competitive to be able to stand the strains and stresses of the international market.

Inaugurating, Sri S.Nijalingappa, Chief Minister of Mysore said: "The properity of our country is dependent on the wise utilisation of its mineral resources. I have a feeling that the vast mineral wealth of India is yet to be found and assessed It looks to me that we have to go a long way in the direction of finding out the variety and volume of our mineral resources and exploiting them for the country's benefit."

NO RATIONING: ENOUGH FOOD

SAYS SHRIMAN NARAYAN

Sri Shriman Narayan, member of the Planning Commission stated yesterday that the Government had enough stocks of rice, wheat and sugar and there need be no apprehension regarding any increase in their prices or these commodities being rationed.

He said that the production of rice fell short by only one million tons and if the people in the South ate rice with a little restraint, there was no case for alarm.

Production of wheat had been increasing.

As regards sugar, he said due to Cuba crisis and climatic reasons shortage of sugar was felt throughout the world. This had given rise to the demand of sugar from India from foreign countries. If people consumed sugar sparingly thereby making provision for its export, the country could earn very valuable foreign exchange.

Sri Narayan said that the cement position was also easy inspite of the defence requirements. The needs of low and middle group housing could be easily met, if not new cinema houses, palatial buildings and such other things.

Pope John Passes Away

Pope John XVIII passed away yesterday at the age of 8[illegible].

The Pontiff died on the fourth day of a dramatic fight against the disease from which he had suffered for more than a year–a stomach tumour, complicated since Friday by peritonitis.

He had reigned for four years, seven months and six days.

The Pope passed away on his simple brass bed in his corner room on the top floor of the Vetican Palace.

Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli-the "Pope of the People"-once confessed he had always dreamed of being just a parish priest.

Elected as Pope in 1958, he began to display the common touch which was to win him the affection of millions outside the Catholic church during his short reign.

To reach his people, he swept away the last vestiges of apparent Papal disinclination and emerged frequently from the Vatican. He showed interest in every kind of human pursuit, once granting an audience to a whole circus troupe, including a lion cub.

President Radhakrishnan, now on a State visit to the U.S said at Washington that the Pope was "a great servant of God and the human race who had worked for world reconciliation".

Kennedy Greets Radhakrishnan

A 21-gun salute boomed as India's President Radhakrishnan arrived yesterday at White House in Washington

He paid tributes to President Radhakrishnan's role as a teacher and philosopher.

India's President arrived from Williamsburg by helicopter which landed on the south lawn of the White House. This is the first time a visiting dignitary has directly landed on the lawns of the White House. Normally, it is only Kennd who takes off and lands on the lawns.

Replying, Dr. Radhakrishnan said the military assistance which the United States was giving India to meet the threat of Chinese attacks could not be forgotten. The ties between India and U. S. were close and intimate, he added.

Later, Dr. Radakrishnan was presented the key to the city of Washington.

World Action Against Hunger

INDIA AND US PRESIDENTS' CALL

President Radhakrishnan of India and President Kennedy of the United States declared yesterday that persistence of hunger "is unacceptable either morally or socially" and that there could be no world peace with world half-satisfied and half-hungry.

They were addressing the World Food Congress, which opened yesterday at Washington. 1,200 delegates from over 100 countries are attending the conference.

President Kennedy warned that world peace was impossible so long as millions were underfed. "We have the capacity to eliminate hunger from the face of the earth in our lifetime We need only the will".

NON-ALIGNMENT NOT A THING FOR BARTER

SAYS RADHAKRISHNAN

President Radhakrishnan stated yesterday at Washington that it was possible at any time for the Chinese to invade India through the Himalayas. "That is why we are anxious to increase our military strength", he added.

He said the conflict with China was not of India's choosing. The Chinese incursions had taken place when India was proposing to bring the Chinese and Indian leaders together to discuss their problems. "Military weakness is a temptation; military strength may prove a deterrent".

The President said that the Himalayas, like the Atlantic Ocean in the United States, had been regarded as invulnerable. But the mountains had now been breached, " so that at any time it is possible for the Chinese to enter India through those passes".

"Much against our will, we are obliged to raise funds, to increase our budget and to divert our resources for these purpose". The United States assistance in this matter had been of considerable help. He said the U.S. realised that Indian stability was one of the greatest factors making for stability in the whole of Asia.

Dr. Radhakrishnan said it was right that India should maintain the principles of democracy, "no matter how long and ardous the path might be. That is why, come what may, whatever the consequences or cost, we are pledged to adopt the democratic way of life, and we will carry on that way as long as possible".

He said that India's policy of non-alignment did not mean it was not aligned or committed to freedom, to peace and peaceful methods of bringing about justice. "These are things which are innate to us. We do not wish to barter them away, no matter what the temptations in our way".

Armed with firearms, the Daflas raided an outlying centre at Ghavantajo, in the north-eastern Kamong Division on May 31.

It is stated that the raid was to oppose the abolition of slavery, which had been imposed by the administration.

CAIRO TELLS INDIA TO HAVE TALKS WITH CHINA

The United Arab Republic is reported to have suggested that it is in India's interest to negotiate with the Chinese Government on the border dispute at the earliest, as delay might freeze the frontier along the positions occupied by the Chinese troops.

Although the UAR wholeheartedly sympathises with the Indian stand, it has suggested to India not to delay negotiations.

REDS' PROTEST MOVEMENT

The Communist Party of India yesterday announced its decision to launch a nationwide movement against high prices and taxes and for nationalisation of banks, oil and foreign trade.

Oldtime Congressmen Convention

TO FIGHT AGAINST ELECTION MALPRACTICES

Bangalore, June 8

A convention of all long-standing Congressmen in the State will be held shortly to devise ways to maintain the stability and integrity of the organisation and to counter the "persistant efforts of some in the Mysore Pradesh Congress to drive away many old Congressmen."

Sri T. Subramanya, speaking on behalf of the dissatisfied Congressmen told newsmen yesterday that "influencial persons in the ruling group have tried in several places to influence the returning officers and mostly succeeded to their advantage. A number of permits in favour of their supporters among the voters and to their relatives have been issued, particularly to deal in sugar, and a large number of bags have been allotted, many of them to influential voters".

He further said: "those in power have tried to get elections postponed when they found that the supporters were not likely to be elected; example Krishnarajanagar, Bellary, Gowribidanur and Chickballapur".

China May Attack In Ladakh

"The Chinese may possibly launch an attack in Ladakh area; one cannot say. In the middle sector, there can be infiltration. There is free and fair amount of movement by the Chinese in Nepal because they are building roads there. There seems to be some concentration of Chinese troops in NEFA and in the Burma side also".

In view of these possibilities, the Union Minister Krishnamachari said, he would only say that the country should intensify its production and maintain it.

INDIA'S WITHDRAWAL A TRICK: AYUB

President Ayub Khan of Pakistan thinks India's withdrawal of her armed forces from the Pakistan border to the Chinese border and her declaration to that effect was "a trick".

He said that India's claim to have removed her forces from Pakistan borders was being made "to lull our fears and divert our attention from our real threat of India's aggression".

SRISAILAM PROJECT

Sri Sanjiva Reddy, Chief Minister of Andhra Pradesh stated yesterday that the Planning Commission and the Union Government had given clearance to the the Rs. 35 crore Srisailam hydro-electric project on the Krishna in Andhra Pradesh.

Rise In Foodgrain Prices

Union Deputy Food Minister Thomas stated yesterday that the wholesale prices of foodgrains have registered a rise of 11 per cent recently over last year's prices.

He attributed the rise mainly to fall in rice production in the Eastern States and said if the area was taken out, the rise worked out to 2 8 per cent.

The Minister said that the increase in prices during the lean period in all the areas had not been high.

Referring to rice position in the Southern Zone, comprising of Mysore, Madras, Andra Pradesh and Kerala, he said that the level of prices in the region was lower than last year

Mysore, June 8

A Janatha High School, run by the Educational Society, was inaugurated on Tuesday at Thagadur in Nanjangud Taluk, by Sri B.C Channaraj Urs, Deputy Commissioner.

Sri Thagadur Ramachandra Rao, President of the Society, presiding appealed to the village folk to help the society in their endeavour. He also asked the villagers to contribute 12 days labour in a year to the public cause.

A sum of Rs. 2,750 was promised at the meeting.

Earlier, Sri T.V. Srinivasa Rao, Secretary welcomed the gathering.

PRIMRARY EDUCATION NOT TO SUFFER

Union Education Minister Shrimali stated yesterday that the Centre has decided that the development of primary education in the Third Plan should not suffer for want of financial resources on account of emergency.

He said his Ministry had also decided to establish an institute of education in each State as part of its programme to raise the quality of primary education.

The tempo of development in primary education in the first two years of the Plan, he said, had been very good and several States had exceeded their targets.

Dr. Shrimali said the Centre had pointed out to the States that as a result of the increased taxation measures this year they would be getting nearly Rs 64 crores from the Centre. A part of this amount could be used to make up the shortfall in the funds for primary education, which was expected to be about Rs. six crores for all the States this year.

ARMS AID TO INDIA WILL FLOW

The Union Economic and Defence Co ordination Minister Krishnamachari is stated to have told the Parliamentary Congress Party yesterday that he found "tremendous sympathy for India and an anxiety to help us out of our difficulties" during his recent tour of the U.S., the U. K., Canada and Australia.

While it was true that the United Kingdom and the United States were somewhat concerned about the Kashmir issue, he said he could categorically say both these countries did not link the Kashmir issue with arms aid.

He said there was no need to imagine that the U.S. would refuse anything we need badly. Aid would be coming from year to year with the necessary sanctions from Congress.

KGF Mines Will Be Close Down?

Union Finance Minister Morarji Desai said at Madras on Saturday that if the cost of production was not brought down, he would close the Kolar and Hatti Gold Mines in Mysore State.

The Minister said that only Rs.1.5 crore worth of gold was being produced at the K.G.F Mines and the cost of this gold was costlier than the gold selling at inflated value in the country. As against the international price of Rs. 62.5 the Kolar Gold Field cost Rs. 128. The Minister promised alternate employment for the workers there.

Sri Desai said that the cost of production at Kolar was high because gold had to be extracted from a depth of about 10,000 feet. Again there was some superfluous staff Something was being done to reduce costs If the extraction was not economic, they had to close the mines

The Government, the said, did not propose to resume the subsidy to the Hatti gold mine stopped some time ago. But arrangement could be made to sell the gold produced there to industrial users.

U.S. ARMS AID TO INDIA

Mr. Dean Rusk, the United States Secretary of State stated yesterday that the U.S. was devoting great time and effort to the problem of strengthening India militarily, while easing fears that the arms aid would be directed against Pakistan.

He said that it was of the highest importance to the United States and to the entire free world that the two great nations, India and Pakistan, be secure and that their economic and social development move forward within the framework of free institutions. "This requires, in our view, not only that they be free from attacks directed at either one of them from outside the subcontinent, but that they themselves find a way to live with each other in peace and harmony. Working together, they could make the defences of the sub continent virtually impregnable; the security of each against any outside attack is gravely weakened if their mutual relations are characterised by fear and distrust".

To Save Freedom: India's Grim Pledge

President Radhakrishnan yesterday spoke about India's determination to double her defence budget to safeguard her democratic way of life against Communist Chinese threat.

Addressing a gathering at New York, he said that India was doubling her defence expenditure much against her will. It went against the whole grain of her nature.

He said: "From the time of Buddha till today, we have been taught that victory breeds hatreds, the vanguished live in sorrow, war is detestable. But we have done it to show to the world our determination to preserve our security, our freedom and our independence".

Dr. Radhakrishnan said that if an organisation like the United Nations could develop sufficient authority and power to protect weaker states, India would be willing to surrender to such an organisation part of her sovereignty. In the absence of such authority India was forced to rely on herself for her security.

He appealed to men of all nations and races to rise beyond group and national loyalties.

SAVE HUMANITY FROM SCOURAGE OF WAR

RADHAKRISHNAN'S CALL TO U.N.

India's President Radhakrishnan yesterday called on the nations of the world to abandon nationalism for a "one world" concept.

Addressing a special session of the United Nations General Assemply at New York, the President said unless nations were ready to surrender a fraction of soverignty for a world order and to submit quarrels to neogotiations, "it is no use merely talking".

He urged them to give up the 'intolerable, destestable and wicked" rule of force. "These are things that have us by the rut in which we have lived. We live in a new world and in a new world a new type of man is necessary. Unless we change we shall not be able to survive".

The President advocated the concept of one family on earth to save the world from military nationalism. He said there was something radically wrong in man's inability to stop dangerous nuclear tests.

Dr. Radhakrishnan urged the world organisation to take some special steps to save humanity from the scourage of war. He said the U. N. symbolised the hopes and aspirations of the world as a central authority. If one believed in the worth and dignity of the human individual, it was necessary to do everything in one's power to improve it.

London Welcomes Radhakrishnan

President Radhakrishnan was given a warm welcome when he arrived in London yesterday for a 12-day state visit to the United Kingdom.

He is the first President of India to pay a state visit to Britain.

At the gaily decorated Victoria Station, the President was received by queen Elizabeth and Duke of Edingburgh when his special train hauled by "Battle of Britain" locomotive reached at 12-30 p.m. The Queen shook hands with him cordially. Unlike the Indian custom, there were no welcome speeches or garlanding of the distinguished visitor.

The Queen went round with the President to introduce him to the members of the Royal family and other British leaders.

Queen Elizabeth wearing a light summer dress looked rather a little girl as she walked along side with the tall silver haired President.

Outside the Victoria Station, the President threw overboard the protocol and walked across to the other side where his countrymen and women had assembled and greeted them with "namaste".

The President, the Queen and the Duke drove in state to the Buckingham Palace in a gold-gilded carriage drawn by six horses. He was warmly greeted by huge crowds of Londoners who had lined the route.

Dr. Radhakrishnan will stay in the Belgian suite of Buckingham Palace.

Racist Governor Bows

The segregationist Governor George C. Wallace of Alabamba bowed to President Kennedy's order and gave up his resistance to the enrolment of two Negro students to the all white University.

The Governor yielded to Federal authority and two 20-year-old Negro students Vivian Malone and James Hood attended the classes under the watchful guard of 1,000 federal troops.

Negro Leader Shot Dead

37-year-old Field Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Coloured People, Mr. Evers was shot dead as he returned to his home in Jackson, the capital of Mississippi in the United States yesterday morning. He was shot in the back.

He had been leading protests against racial discrimination in Jackson.

A reward of 10,000 dollars has been offered for information leading to conviction of the snipper who killed the Negro leader Evers

The murder came only a few hours after President Kennedy promised the nation that he would send legislation to Congress next week calling for an end to discrimination in any public place.

The President asked every American to examine his conscience and ask himself how he could react if he was given the kind of treatment meted out to one tenth of the population represented by the Negro community.

Contrasting the condition of the Negro with that of the White American, Mr. Kennedy pointed out that a Negro boy born today had half as much chance to complete high school as a white baby, one-third as much chance to go to college, twice as much chance to become unemployed and one seventh as much chance of earning 10,000 dollars a year.

He regreted that even after 100 years after Lincoln freed slaves, their heirs and grandsons were not yet freed from bonds of injustice.

English As National Language

ABOMINABLE SAYS NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru declared yesterday at Madras that to demand that the Constitution must be changed to lay down permanently that English should be the official and national language of India was "abominable and intolerable".

He said that such a demand would be intolerable to a large number of people in India.

Addressing a public meeting, Sri Nehru said: "We will use English. But to use it is one thing, but to say that it should be the sole official language is really amazing. Do we not have pride? Is that the way to deal with the masses of our people"?

He said that by conceding that demand "we will only be cutting ourselves off from the masses.

The Prime Minister said that he was not against English. English would continue to be widely studied in our schools and colleges and it would probably be more widely known in future than in the past. But to call it the official language was abominable. "We have our pride. Everybody should know English; but to call it the national language, I will not do it. I will not say it in the constitution".

FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE

President Radhakrishnan, before leaving New York, at the end of his U.S. visit, stated yesterday that "I have had a wonderful time, a very pleasant time and a useful time".

He said that the U.S. accorded him "sympathetic understanding" during a 10-day state visit. "I am satisfied with the trip I have undertaken I am leaving here with the most vivid recollections of the friendly atmosphere I found in this country".

The President stated that India stood for a world without war and for the abolition of all forms of racial and economic exploitation and bigotry.

India To Be Prepared & On Guard

—RADHAKRISHNAN

President Radhakrishnan stated yesterday at London that the Chinese invasion had put India's democracy to the test and India had survived the test.

Addressing a Press reception, he said: 'We are still operating within the frame work of our democratic institutions. We have problems which we are trying to solve as peacefully as we can. We do not want to build up our defences for the purpose of getting other people's territory. We want to defend ourselves when we are attacked. That is the purpose for which we are trying to build up our defence".

The President said: "When conflict is thrust upon us, it is our duty to protect the integrity of our people and defend the security of our country. The conflict was not of our choosing. It was something for which we had not prepared ourselves Hereafter, it is essential that we should be well prepared and on our guard".

He said: "we are greatly heartened by the statement of your Prime Minister Mr. Macmillan that Britain would do every thing in her power to assist India".

Adequate U.S. Arms Aid

Mr. Robert McNamara, the U.S. Secretary of Defence stated yesterday that the United States was convinced that India's armed forces must be adequately equipped to face continuing Chinese pressure.

He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the Kennedy administration had been conducting intensive discussions with top Indian emissaries "to clarify our understanding of Indian planning, and to establish proper priorities for the continuation of our military assistance".

"From the military standpoint", he said, "we have also made an intensive effort to define precisely where our assistance should go in order to make the greatest possible immediate contribution and at the same time into a sound long-term defence posture for India. Basically we are convinced that although the short-term likelihood of renewed Chinese attack may not appear great, there are bound to be continuing Chinese Communist pressure against which the Indian armed forces must be adequately equipped both for the sake of India itself, and for the sake of its neighbouring countries to the West and to the East".

Nehru To Resign When People Demand

Prime Minister Nehru stated yesterday at Madras that he would resign if he himself felt that he must resign or if the people generally made it clear that they wanted him to resign.

Addressing a public meeting, he said that obviously he had no desire to stick to any office. It was a great burden, a terrible one at times. He felt that if he continued at this juncture, he might do some good some service to the country. He hoped it was not desire on his part that made him hold on to power. Power had a corrupting influence and "it is for you to judge how far it has corrupted me".

No Linguistic Imperialism

SAYS NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru declared yesterday at Madras that "any idea that any one language can dominate over others or what is called linguistic imperialism is totally unrealistic and nobody thinks in those terms".

S. Nehru said people were passionately fond of the particular language they knew and threw their hate about for it. It was unfortunate and it irritated others. But even then, nobody thought it possible today to achieve linguistic end by that method anywhere in India and least of all, in South India where they had a great language, Tamil, which was co-equal with Sanskrit.

Sri Nehru said there had been changes in the manner of growth of Indian languages in the last hundred years or so. Most of their languages were fairly old with literatures and with great popular appeal in the particular region.

In the last hundred years or so, possibly influenced by the West through the English language, these languages had adopted many of the linguistic ways of the Western languages and had developed more on those lines. That was natural because the present was the world of science and technology and language was affected by it and moulded by it.

The Prime Minister said: "I firmly believe that the growth of a language comes from a knowledge of other languages. Some people imagine that the purity of language consists in keeping it cut off from other languages I think it is a gravely mistaken view. It may result in some kind of purity but it results in the lack of growth or the decadence of the language which shuts itself out from other influences. Our languages should not be afraid of being influenced, provided it is the right influence and does not spoil the languages by its absorption".

WORLD'S FIRST SPACEWOMAN

RUSSIA LAUNCHES JOINT SPACE FLIGHT

The first women cosmonaut-pretty, smiling "Seagull" Valentina Tereshkova, 26-year-old Russian, yesterday kept the first space date in a joint flight programme with cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky.

"Seagull" - Valentina's call-sign was blasted off at 12-30 p.m. to join "Hawk", the call-sign of handsome, family man Lieut-Col. Bykovsky, who has completed 33 orbits since being launched two days ago:

The space pair are orbiting the earth with only six seconds differences in their timings.

As their spaceships orbited close together in space, observers thought it possible they would attempt a rendezvous closer than the four miles of Russians Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich.

She is orbiting the earth every 88.3 minutes at a distance from the earth of between 113 and 145 miles.

Tass said she withstood well the boost period and the switch to the state of weightlessness and "feels fine".

A linking of two spaceships while in orbit would be a step towards building large space laboratories in which people could live and work. Soviet experts said this was a high priority task.

Valentine, hurtling round the world at 18,000 miles an hour, had completed five orbits by 7 p.m.

Valentina, world's first spacewoman started working at a tyre factory and graduating she became a a cotton spinning technologist.

Sri Nehru said that the Chinese were normally in an attacking frame of mind. Their concentration on military strength was a continuation of their past civil wars.

Asked to what extent the Chinese had increased their troop concentration on the borders with India, Sri Nehru replied that the whole of Tibet was a major military concentration. Because the Chinese had built plenty of roads, they could bring their troops to any border with considerable ease from a distance of 50 or 100 miles.

He said that about 3,000 prisoners of war had been returned. The persons unaccounted for ranged between 2,000 and 3,000 "which probably may be considered to be dead". Bodies of many of them had been reconvered when the snows melted recently.

The Prime Minister said: "I do not propose to deal with the Das report, because SriDas took up this work on the express condition that his report would be treated as a secret document".

Asked whether he would take this opportunity to make a drastic change in his Cabinet to bring about greater ideological affinity, Sri Nehru said: "What I may or may not do is not for me to discuss here, but what I would like you to bear in mind is that India is a very mixed country, mixed in many ways. No Talks With China: Nehru

Prime Minister Nehru stated on Saturday that "at the present moment, there is no question of our talks" with the Chinese to settle the border dispute.

Though the Chinese were normally in an attacking frame of mind and in position, they had stated repeatedly that they did not propose to have recourse to fighting on their part, 'we can take it for what it is worth. But the probability seems to be that in the future, they will not attack".

The Chinese, he said, had set up 26 posts, 17 in the NEFA-Tibet border, two in the Bihar-UP-Tibet border and seven in Ladakh. Those in the NEFA-Tibet border and UP-Bihar-Tibet border were on the other side of the international frontier as India claimed it. Of the seven posts in Ladakh, one was beyond the international frontier and six within. The question was about these six posts. The checkposts in the demilitarised zone in Ladakh were to be set up by mutual agreement under theColombo proposals.

Model Echo In Commons

The British Labour Opposition leader, Mr. Harold Wilson yesterday accused Prime Minister Macmillan of "gambling with national security in his attitude to Profumo's love affair with Christine Keeler who was at the same time the mistress of a Soviet diplomat, Capt. Eugene Ivanov.

In the Parliament, Mr. Wilson accused the Prime Minister of taking "an indolent, nonchalant attitude "to a document presented to him by Labour leaders the day after Profumo had lied to the House of Commons".

This "nauseating document" as Mr. Wilson described it, was the record of a meeting between a Labour member and Dr StephenWard,society osteopath, who introduced Profumo to Keeler and capt. Ivanov.

It "took the lid off one corner of the London underworld-vice and dope, marijuana. blackmail and counter-blackmail, violence and petty crime".

Mr. Wilson challenged the Prime Minister: "Are there any more revelations to come? Have we had all that the Government now knows, or are some being held back in a desperate gamble that they won't come out?"

Defending himself, the Prime Minister said what had happened had inflicted on him as head of the administration "a deep and bitter and lasting wounds".

The Government of India has accused the Chinese Government of consolidating the gains of its aggression in Ladakh and creating a basis for further aggression.

India said in a note on June 11 that the continued intrusions and provocative activities of Chinese forces in the Spanggur and Rezangla areas in Ladakh belied the Chinese claim that they have withdrawn their armed forces 20 kilometres east of the so-called "1959 line of actual control".

New Delhi has refuted the Chinese claim to the Spanggur Lake area, saying it was never part of Chinese territory until it was forcibly seized in last year's massive invasion.

Test For Allergy To Penicillin

A new and safer test for determining whether a person is allergic to penicillin and other drugs has been evolved in Philadelphia (U.S.).

The need for such a test is urgent. The question of sensitivity to penicillin arises in about ten per sent of those treated with antibiotic.

Under the new procedure, the test for a reaction of penicillin is carried out in the laboratory instead of inside the patient. Only a drop of blood from the patient's fingertip is needed to analysis under a miscroscope.

Dr. Walter Shelly said human blood has two different kinds of cells which react to allergies. When the patient's drop of blood is mixed with a solution of penicillin under the microscope, the reation can be immediately observed in the cells. If a certain percentage of cells, known as basophils disintegrate, it indicates the patient is allergic. In some cases, he said, the cells may disintegrate slowly, disclosing a mild reaction, but in other instances, it may disintegrate explosively, although this is rate.

Chinese Perfidy Exposed

Delhi has categorically told Peking that it was China which has contravened the Geneva Convention in respect of treatment of Indian prisoners of war and asserted that India had abided by all its commitments about internees.

The Government of India has said that China was paying lip service to pace, while its avowed objective was to overthrow by war and violence the lawfully-constituted Governments of independent peoples of Asia and Africa. "War is as surely its gospel as peace is its bugbear".

In its latest note dated June 10, India has defended the arrest and internment of Chinese Nationals as a consequence to the mischief done by China by its unprovoked invasion and insidious endeavour to subvert the security and independence of India.

The blatantly propagandistic action of the Chinese Government is in contravention of the Geneva convention on treatment of prisoners and stands in marked variance to the Indian Government's generous treatment of Chinese repatriates.

He said demands were made by Pakistan under threats and were such that there could be no agreement on Kashmir. But India was still in favour of holding talks with Pakistan for an amicable solution, he added.

Mac Gets Grace Period

The British Conservative Government under the leadership of Mr. Macmillan won a majority of 69 in the House of Commons after a momentous full-day debate on their handling of the Profumo affair. In the division, the Government got 321 to 252.

Several Tory members said after the voting result that the Government victory could not be regarded as victory for the Prime Minister. The vote "has given Mr. Macmillan a period of grace".

While giving him their support, they made it clear that they wanted him to be out of office as soon as possible.

Prime Minister Macmillan asked the House to consider what alternative he had, except to believe what the War Minister had told him. "My colleagues have been deceived. I have been deceived-grossly deceived-the House has been deceived but we have not been parties to the deception".

Labour's Deputy Leader, Mr. Gegore Brown winding up for the Opposition declared: "If responsibility means anything it means in a case of this kind that the Prime Minister is personally and totally responsible and involved".

ASHOK MEHTA'S PLEA

Mysore, June 20

Sri Ashoka Mehta leader of the Praja-Socialist Party, yesterday urged for the removal of the economic stagnation in the country and said that this could be achieved only when the Government and the Opposition agreed for a set of programme, which would enable the growth of national economy atleast by seven per cent.

Sri Mehta told a news conference that inspite of our experience of past few months, being the victim of aggression, there was no corresponding reflection in the political life of the country, because of economic stagnation.

Referring to the economic growth, Sri Mehta regretted that the progress had been only 2½ per cent even after ten years of two Plans. Such a pace of growth was enemical to the interest of the country.

What was disturbing was, he said, that although they were differences in political approach, they were even finding it impossible to agree on the central point of breaking this economic stagnation.

In his opinion, what the country needed was an agreement on a programme of action to move forward for economic growth. In addition, there should be a sense of direction and drive.

The tug-of war, with the Opposition preparing for struggle and the Government for represssion of any kind, would only result in increasing frustration which would weaken our country's potenial against the enemy. Unless the administration was made responsible, the economic growth was not possible, he added.

Race For Peace Or War?

What still had to be established were principles to ensure that the distribution of the burden was equitable and that all countries participated in the task of international reconstruction.

PEKING'S ULTERIOR MOTIVES

Chinese Threat Imminent

The United States and the United Kingdom will accelerate the supplies of arms and equipment to India, following urgent representations from New Delhi, it is learnt.

This is because of sudden Chinese build-up in Ladakh and erection of a permanent post near Daulat Beg Oldi.

It is stated that the Chinese are putting up permanent barracks along the border, which can be well served logistically.

India has impressed her Western friends through diplomatic channels that the threat from Peking is not as remote as some experts think. Heavy concentration of Chinese troops in Chumbi Valley, bordering Sikkim, is considered as a possitive proof on the Chinese intentions.

INDIAN POWS ILL-TREATED BY CHINESE

GENEVA CONVENTION SCOFFED AT

The Chinese were guilty of breaching several articles of the Geneva Convention governing prisoners of-war and they openly scoffed at the Geneva Convention.

The Chinese intimidated Indian prisoners with threats of punishment if they did not give information. All prisoners were made to fill in forms giving personal information. The prisoners were told falsely that the forms were required by the Indian Government while in fact they were intended only to provide the Chinese with background material on each individual.

The prisoners were issued with Chinese communist books, pamphlets and maps and made to study compulsorily for two hours a day, under rude and arrogant supervisors that disregarded rank or age. These compulsory study periods were followed by films, lectures and discussions. Argumentative prisoners were punished and harassed and subjected to long harangues at all times. Especially difficult ones were taken to the banks of a bitterly cold stream where the persuasion was continued under threat of immersion.

At all times of the day, Chinese interpreters would go into the men's living quarters and under the guise of friendliness, attempt to subvert the loyalty of Indian troops, telling them that the Indian Government was a lackey of American capitalists and had deliberately attacked China, which was a friend of India.

When one of the interpreters abused Prime Minister Nehru, a Kumaoni jawan jumped up and slapped him. The solider was summoned to the camp commander repeatedly and told him to admit his mistake but refused to do so.

In their attempts to undermine our Army's traditionally high discipline, the Chinese went out of their way to humiliate and degrade the officers by making them remove their badges of rank and forbidding them to salute their officers and give them respect. They were made to clean the camp, carry ration sacks and cut firewood, while Chinese scoffed at them

3,211 Indian prisoners who were repatriated told their stories on arrival, the pattern of Chinese behaviour became apparent.

INCREASE IN DEFENCE OUTPUT

Production in ordnance factories in the country has increased nearly four-fold since the emergency. The entire requirement of automatic weapons for the Army is expected to be met before long from indigenous resources.

The six factories being set up are expected to go into production in the next two years. Besides, the existing units have taken up the manufacture of new types of arms and amunition.

A new type of automatic rifle, designed and manufactured entirely by Indian technicians, is being produced on a large scale.

JOB FOR KGF SURPLUS MEN

The Central Government was considering a proposal to set up a plant for the manufacture of heavy earth moving machinery near Kolar to provide work for over 3600 men who have been found surplus in the Kolar Gold Mines.

Bare-Faced Denial

The Chinese note denying the setting up of any post in the demilitarised zone in northern Ladakh has been described as an attempt to hide the violation of Indian territory by a "bare-faced denial".

A spokesman of the External Affairs Ministry said that judging from the denial, it was possible that the Chinese were taking hasty measures to cover up their traces and decamp.

The Chinese note said that she had set up civilian checkposts in Ladakh was wholly groundless. All 26 Chinese civilian checkposts were located insideSinkiang and Tibet in China, seven of them were in the western sector and China had maintained them as far back as November 1,1959.

The Indian claim that the Colombo proposals envisaged the administration of the area in the western sector of the Sino-Indian boundary by civilian posts of both sides was nothing but its own unilateral interpretation of the proposals, the Chinese Foreign Ministry said.

Ryots-Cheated By Farm Co-Ops.

Union Agriculture Minister Ram Subhag Singh stated yesterday that the organisation for marketing of agricultural produce in India suffered from basic structural defects as the result of which the farmers were now kept in a grossly disadvantageous position in their dealings with the middlemen.

Dr. Singh said the various malpractices in agricultural marketing throve on the weak bargaining position of the farmer. The unduly low prices, which his produce got soon after the harvest, the unjustified deductions from the price, the manipulation of weights and measures, the linking of the sale of the farmer's produce with his debt, were some of the glaring defects of the present marketing structure.

INDIAN PRISONERS MURDERED

-CHINESE BRUTALITIES

FATE OF 800 MISSING POWs

Instances of cowardly cold-blooded murder by the Chinese of some Indian prisoners who resisted their persuasion methods have now been revealed.

It has now been established that the Chinese, after unilaterally announcing a cease-fire, killed a number of jawans in ambushes. Others who were over powered were asked to put up their hands in token of surrender and then mowed down by bullets.

Such instances occurred both in NEFA and Ladakh.

Out of about 5,000 men who were missing or were captured, 3,942 have been repatriated alive, while the bodies and ashes of 26 others have been handed over by the Chinese. Many bodies have since been recovered, but 800 men are still unaccounted for.

It has been established through close questioning of the repatriates that some of the 26 men whose bodies and ashes have been handed over were in fact killed as a result of Chinese brutalities following their stubborn resistance to persuasion methods.

An Indian solider in Ladakh fell wounded. Chinese soldiers poured petrol over him and set him afire. The naik's comrades ran towards him, beat out the flames and rescued him.

Cases of Chinese robbing dead and wounded of India soliders of their wrist watches were common. In one case, a wounded jawan made a feeble protest against such robbery. He was shot dead and his watch removed.

WAR WITH IMPERIALISTS IMPOSSIBLE

Says Khrushchev

Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared yesterday that "htstory will teach those" who disagree that "it is impossible that we declare war against the imperialists".

Addressing a mass meeting at Frankfurt on the eve of Sino-Soviet ideological talks in Moscow in which east-west relations were a major point of dispute, he said "it would be impossible for us to declare war on the capitalist countries— to defeat capitalism in such a way. Then we would destroy a million workers for each capitalist. Only madmen could brew up something like that. Nay, the workers of the capitalist lands find the strength to wage the class struggle. It is up to them what means they employ- to fight struggle. That is their affair".

Mr. Khrushchev said: "We are always and permanently on the side of the working class, in the side of their struggle against the class enemy Let the working class of capitalist countries rise against their oppressors. Our sympathies are on the side of the working class. We can help. We have the means to do so. But we will never interfere in the internal affairs of other States. Interference in the internal affairs of other peoples means war and we are against war. There are people who see these things differently. Let them. But history will teach them. Not everything at once. Not everything at a time".

Steel Engineers Institute

Bangalore, July 6

Union Minister for Heavy Industry, Sri C. Subramaniam yesterday indicated that a machine tool unit would be started in every State.

Laying the foundation-stone for the Central Machine Tools Institute sponsored by his Ministry with the collaboration from the Government of Czechoslovakia, the Minister said any number of industries established in the country would not make us self-sufficient unless we achieved the standard of developing our own designs and technology for the innumerable machines required for our industries.

He said that in the Third Plan, they had indicated the target of production of machine tools worth about Rs. 30 crores. They had been very freely licensing machine tool industries in various parts of the country, but unfortunately sufficient progress had not been made in the implementation of the license.

Deploring that some small units were producing non-standard quality products, he said whether it was in the small scale or heavy scale, they should produce standardised products. Ultimately they had to depend on their own designs and it was for this purpose they were setting up the Machine Tools Institute at Bangalore.

LADAKH LOGISTICS NO PROBLEM NOW

V. P. Blames Planners

FOR FAILURE OF PLANS

Bangalore, July 6

Vice-President Zakir Hussain stated here yesterday that where a plan failed, "the planners who do little of consequential thinking" were to blame and not the plan itself Whenever a scheme was taken up, there was need for forethought.

Replying to a civic address, the Vice-President referred to the city's water supply problem and said because of the lack of forethought in planning that the problem had now assumed a bigger proportion and called upon them to think in advance and plan imaginatively.

Referring to the pattern of education, Dr. Hussain said here also similar problems existed and if the secondary education had failed it was because things were planned with no regard to consequences. He said that the municipalities should efficiently deal with the problem of education as their field of operation was limited He mentioned that the best schools in Britain were managed by the country councils and not by the Government He appealed to corporators to give first priority to education because the successive generations, if well educated, could efficiently handle administration of the Corporation.

PRIMARY EDUCATION

Bangalore, July 6

Deputy Education Minister Grace Tucker stated here yesterday that in its third year of working, the compulsory primary education in the State was now "at the cross-roads". Its expansion was praiseworthy but the quality, in the nature of things, had suffered.

About 14 lakhs pupils had been enrolled-90 per cent of the target, this year.

She admitted that only quantitative and not qualitative progress had been achieved.

Pointing out that the Government was handing over the compulsory primary education to the village panchayats and taluk boards, she hoped that, with the co-operation of the C. D. blocks, the present position would improve. She asked the teachers and the inspecting officers to pay personal attention to avoid stagnation and wastage in schools.

Nehru To Resign If People Desire

Prime Minister Nehru stated yesterday at Chandigarh that the day he was convinced that development work in the country would proceed at a fast pace and his exit would not make any difference, he would quit the office.

He said: "Recently some of our political opponents have started saying that I should resign. Well, if I am to resign, it is not for them, but for the people of the country to decide. I can resign but only when it is necessary and when people desire it I cannot do so just to oblige somebody".

RATIONING AND CONTROL IF PRICE-LINE NOT CHECKED

PATIL WARNS FOODGRAIN DEALERS

Sri S K. Patil, Union Food Minister yesterday warned the foodgrain trade that the Government would be compelled to introduce price control and rationing unless the trade took immediate and effective steps to keep food prices in check.

Addressing the All-India Foodgrain Dealers' Convention at Delhi, Sri Patil said he was not among those who believed that price control and rationing were the panacea for ills. Even so, there may be no way out of them if there was a steep rise in food prices.

He said that he was under tremendous pressure from the Planning Commission and Parliament to introduce rationing and price control in respect of food grains without any more ado. He had resisted this pressure so far, but would have to yield to it if the present trend of price continued.

Sri Patil said that it was his advice as a friend of the trade that the latter must make a special effort to hold the price-line during the next three month-period-July to September. This was a crucial period and the performance of the trade during these three months would be critically watched. At the end of this period, new crops would arrive in the market and the supply position would naturally improve.

Food prices, he said, had begun rising of late. A large number of dealers in sugar had to be hauled up for blackmarking. This was not a happy state of affairs.

MAINTAIN PRICE LINE: CHAVAN'S APPEAL

Defence Minister Chavan yesterday urged the co-operation of foodgrain dealers throughout the country to maintain the price line and ensure equitable distribution of foodgrains.

He emphasised that economic stability was as vital as a strong and properly equipped army for the nation's victory in the struggle which it was faced today.

If there was scarcity of foodgrains and if food prices went on rising higher and higher, there was bound to be a serious discontent among the people Such a situation could not but hamper the defence effort.

CHINESE MASSIVE BUILD-UP ON ALL INDIAN BORDER

There has been a massive build-up by the Chinese along the entire Indian border, it is reported. Though the Chinese had withdrawn their troops from the occupied areas in NEFA, they had never taken them back to the mainland. On the contrary, the troops continued to pour in.

The Chinese have now deployed troops evenly on all the fronts without disturbing their build-up north of NEFA and Ladakh.

The Chinese are in command of long highway running parallel to the Indian border from Rima, north of the Lohit Division. There are now also a number of feeder roads running towards the Indian border.

In the last six months, the Chinese have constructed a parallel network of roads to these highways to maintain the supply line in tact.

It is estimated that the Chinese have brought in 25 to 30 divisions of troops in Tibet and Sinkiang areas. They had about 13 divisions when they attacked India last time. They have also nearly three lakhs of "second-line" soldiers who are being trained and equipped to play as "human wave tactics" to swamp all Indian positions and make way for regulars by exhausting quite a number of Indian bullets.

Nehru Government Should Resign

Mysore, July 9

Sri Jaganatharao Joshi, General Secretary of All-India Jana Sangh, yesterday, demanded the resignation of Nehru Government for failure to take determined efforts to drive out the Chinese.

He said instead of making a determined bid to oust the Chinese invaders, the Nehru Government was marking time and following a policy of drift. The public resentment was rising due to soaring prices, worsening shortages and increasing tax burdens.

Steel Plant For Hospet

Hospet in Mysore State, along with two other sites, would be considered for location of new steel plants during the Fourth Plan.

Union Deputy Steel Minister Sethi stated yesterday that his Ministry had appointed a steering body which would prepare details of expansion programme for public sector steel plants during the Fourth Plan.

He said that efforts would be made to achieve a production target of 19 million tons of steel in the country by the end of the Fourth Plan. Of this, three public sector plants, Bhilai, Rourkela and Durgapur, are expected to produce six million tons. The expansion programme of these plants was going on according to schedule.

LABOUR LAWS FOR PUBLIC SECTOR ALSO

Secretaries and other representatives of Central Ministries connected with public sector undertakings yesterday agreed that labour laws should be applied without any distinction as between private and public sectors.

They were of opinion that the public sector being part of the Government, there was no question of any departure from the labour policies laid down by the Government.

They agreed that the Industrial Truce Resolution of November, 1962 had produced a good psychological effect on the labour situation and facilitated settlement of disputes and greater production.

REMOVE AUDIT CONTROL FOR PUBLIC SECTOR

SUBRAMANIAM'S PLEA

Union Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries, Subramaniam yesterday pleaded for the emancipation of industrial administration from administrative and audit control.

Unless this was done, he said, however large the assistance they got from other countries for the establishment of industries, they would not be able to utilise the aid properly.

He said that discipline of industry and business was different from the discipline of administration and politics. "If you want to run industry like the administration, then it is the surest way to failure".

The Minister said that when a tender came to his department, his officers examined it and then it had to be passed on to the Finance Ministry for sanction. Many a time these were returned with various queries. All this meant delay and "this has been a frustrating experience for me", he added.

What was needed in industrial administration, he said, was quickness of decision because a two-month delay might mean loss of crores of rupees worth of production.

Sri Subramaniam also charged politicians with thinking that they were in the opposition even so far as the public sector projects were concerned. They made the wildest attacks on these projects on flimsy representations made to them.

He appealed to the people to make sure of the facts about the projects before running to politicians to make representations. If the people do not do this, politics would creep into the projects also. This should not happen.

India Has Friends In World

—GALBRAITH

Prof John Galbraith, retiring U.S. Ambassador in India stated yesterday at Madras that the major handicap that Indian Planning efforts suffered was from the alarming growth of population every year.

He said the addition of 10 million population every year was a bigger problem to contend with than the security of the frontiers of the country.

The U.S. Envoy was on way to Colombo from Delhi.

He pointed out that one of the most important factors for economic prosperity of the country was freeing agriculture from dependence on the monsoon, so that the economy would not be subject to the vagaries of the weather.

He also proposed to build over the next four years a rice buffer of two million tons entirely out of imports from the United States at the rate of half a million tons a year.

Mangalore-Hassan Rail Line

MINISTER ALLAYS FEARS

Bangalore, July 15

Union Deputy Railway Minister Ramaswamy yesterday allayed the fears that the recent shifting of survey party from Hassan to Miraj-Poona section meant that there was a likelihood of the Hassan-Mangalore line being delayed.

He pointed out that a survey party had been shifted from Hassan to Miraj but the other survey party was at Mangalore drafting the final report. The survey work was over and therefore a party was shifted to another area where it was needed.

Sri Ramaswamy said that for the construction of the Hassan-Mangalore line a sum of Rs. 50 lakhs had been provided and the project included in the Third Plan. The construction work would start after the survey report was received and considered.

He said the Salem-Bangalore line would be completed by the middle of 1966. He asserted that as for the Railway Ministry was concerned, there was no difference between the Hassan-Mangalore line and the Salem-Bangalore line.

Unlike the Salem-Bangalore line, the Mangalore-Hassan line was linked with the development of the Mangalore port. It was only two months ago the Union Transport Ministry had announced the final choice for locating the Mangalore port.

PROTEST AGAINST FOOD POLICY

27 Opposition members, excluding the Communists, yesterday began a three-day hunger-strike in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly premises as a protest against "the failure of the Government to announce a food policy to stem famine conditions in the State".

Leaders of different Opposition parties announced that the hunger-strike commenced with immediate effect when the House reassembled after a half-hour adjournment following a pandemonium over the food question.

The trouble started when the Deputy Speaker refused to give his consent to Opposition adjournment motions seeking immediate discussion on the Government's food policy. Tempers rose high and for about 20 minutes there were exchanges of words between the Congress and the Opposition members and table-thumping.

Earlier the Communist members had walked out of the House in protest against the Government's food policy.

RETAIN ENGLISH AS OFFICIAL LANGUAGE

MYSORE CITIZENS' DEMAND

Mysore, July 18

A strong plea to retain English as the official language of India and not to impose Hindi, was made at a public meeting held here last evening at the Townhall.

The meeting was organised by the State Central Committee for English.

Sri C. J. Mukkannappa, MLA presided.

Mass Nepotism

Sri C. Rajagopalachari, in a message said he was glad the people had begun to realise the consequences of yielding to the unjust imposition of Hindi in place of English.

He said: "It would be mass nepotism, nothing else. We must overcome the feeling of impotence that has pervaded the nation at all levels and resist any change in the status quo in respect of official all-India language. The constitutional provision in respect of Hindi was adopted in hurry and without recognising the difficulties and unfair discriminatory consequences involved. The article should be repealed and substituted by a definite continuance of English. More fundamental articles have been amended out of existence and the repeal of Hindi article should be strenuously demanded by people of all parts of India who will be detrimentally affected".

English Not Foreign Language

Sri P. Kodanda Rao of the Servants of India Society speaking debunked the idea that English was a foreign language. He pointed out that no language belonged to anybody and it had no political nationality, nor race, religion or sex. Besides, language was not a biological inheritance and there was no concept of ownership of any language. So it was unreasonable to say that English was a foreign language.

The speaker said that the problem, retension of English, was not a local or minor problem. It had the greatest importance and vitality throughout the country. It was not a few disgruntled or retired people who were agitating for the retension of English.

He said the agitation against the imposition of Hindi was not a limited one. "We are sticking to the right–royal method of constitutional agitation and creating public opinion". He warned the Government not to ignore the public opinion.

Mr. Kodanda Rao appealed to the authorities not to break up the unity of India. He also asked not to burden or compel our children to learn two or three languages. One language was enough to acquire all knowledge. He exhorted to give up the superstition that English was a foreign language but retain it as the official language.

Messrs. P. H. Krishna Rao, V. T Srinivasan, T. S. Rajagopala Iyengar addressed the gathering

The meeting adopted a resolution demanding that English should once for all be adopted as the sole official language of the Union of India and not impose Hindi, a regional language, as the main Union language.

K Blasts Peking's War Dogma

The Soviet Premier Khrushchev yesterday blasted Peking's war dogma and declared "We made the revolution not to make war but in live peacefully".

He said socialism could show its superiority over capitalism but needed peace and not war to do so.

"We did not have a revolution to unleash wars to fight, but to create, to live in peace to work. We must beat imperialism on the economic, cultural and scientific front".

Mr. Khrushchev said the socialist revolution had been brought about for the happiness and triumph of the people. It was not for war, not to start a war and build a new civilisation on the ruins of the old.

He asked whether the 'authors of those claims" (Chinese) about the unevitability of war realised what would happen if all the thermonuclear bombs in the world were set off today. It was not known, said, what state the survivors of such devastation would be in.

He said that some people had "an itch, a belligerent itch' which came "not from fear and lack of faith".

VOA DEAL: MALAVIYA'S WARNING

Former Union Minister for Mines and Fuel Sri K. D. Malaviya said yesterday that the proposed transmission of the Voice of America programme from the Calcutta AIR Station was 'a very serious matter'.

He said "Even if it has to be accepted under the present conditions, our self-respect demands that it will not be a mere relay of some voice from a foreign land and scripts of broadcasts should be carefully censored to ensure that our policy of non-alignment is not affected in any way and our friends, particularly our neighbours do not get offended by these broadcasts".

The Government of India is seeking a revision in regard to certain aspects of the recently concluded agreement with the United States providing for the purchase of a powerful transmitter.

The agreement provides for the relaying of Voice of America programme to South-East Asia through that transmitter to be located in Calcutta and restricts India's use of the transmitter in certain respects.

The democratic vision which the two countries held in common could be achieved only within a framework of world peace and increasing economic and political freedom.

The U S. Envoy assured his country's continuous support and understanding in India's efforts to improve the lot of her people and to defend herself against aggression.

President Radhakrishnan said that India was watching the present East-West nuclear test ban talks at Moscow "with great eagerness and good hopes that some steps may be taken to prepare the world for disarmament and world peace".

INDIA ACCEPTS JOINT AIR EXERCISES

U.S. RADAR UNITS IN TWO MONTHS

India has accepted the offer of the Governments of the United States and the United Kingdom for joint training exercises with the Indian Air Force.

U.S. mobile radar units and communications equipment to guard against a possible Communist Chinese air attack will be in operation in India within two months.

The first joint training exercise would take place in the autumn.

While most equipment will be provided by the United States, Britain will also give electronic and communications assistance.

In order to clear any misunderstanding, it is emphasised that once training on mobile radar sets is over, the entire radar and communication equipment to be installed will be fully manned by Indian Air Force personnel.

While American and British "high performance fighter aircraft". will participate in the joint air exercises, this arrangement will be temporary and the exercise will be under of the overall aegis of the IAF.

These air exercises will not be part of a military commitment, although both the U.S. and U.K. have agreed to consult with India in the event of an attack on this country.

India has made it quite clear that the defence of the country, including air defence, is "wholly and solely the responsibility of the Government of India".

The mobile radar units and the fixed units to be installed later, would be located in New Delhi and Calcutta areas where the exercises would take place.

The fixed radar units are expected to be installed within 12 to 18 months.

U.S. officials estimated the cost of the fixed installations at some 15 million dollars.

—NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday rediculed the "English caste" mentality in the country and said the English knowing people had become a caste by themselves. They considered themselves superior to those who did not know English. This mentality should go.

"We do not want English to become a barrier separating hundreds of millions of people in the country. We have to acknowledge that any kind of real progress has to be in the language of mother tongue–regional languages of India.

Sri Nehru warned: "If people say English should remain dominant instead of regional languages or mother tongue, it has an irrigating effect. In this progress English itself suffers more than anything else".

He complimented the villagers and the Taluk Board for starting the High School with their own funds and not wait for the Government to start the the school. The policy of the Government, he said was not to open high schools by themselves but helping the people to start schools by giving Government's share.

The Chief Minister said that the Government had decided to provide 50,000 irrigation wells during the next three years, for which the Centre had agreed to give Rs 3.5 crores. Nearly Rs. 40 crores, he said would be spent during the next three years for various irrigation projects in the state.

Sri Devaraj Urs, Labour and Transport Minister, who presided, stressed the importance of giving education for all the people so that they might know the benefits of democracy.

Special Food For Jawans

RESEARCHES AT DEFENCE LABORATORY

Mysore, July 30

The study of problems for supply of food articles to troops in forward areas particularly at high altitude where cooking and other preparations present considerable difficulties has been undertaken by the Research and Development Organisation of the Ministry of Defence. Dehydrated foodstuffs, preservative processes and emergency ration packages are being developed.

One important aspect of this work relates to the preservation of chapaties for periods upto three months without loss of taste or nutritional value. This has been made possible by mixing a preservative to the flour from which chapathies are prepared and could be stored for about three months in polythene bags. Other food preparations and concentrated foodstuffs suitable for use by jawans at high altitudes have also been developed.

The Defence Food Research Laboratory at Mysore which is one of the research establishments under the Organisation is actively engaged on problems pertaining to the supply of these food articles to the defence personnel.

Some of the items developed in this laboratory and displayed at the recent Defence Exhibition held at the Visvesvaraya Industrial Museum at Bangalore were very much appreciated by the visitors, who expressed the view that such preserved and processed foodstuffs should also be made available to the public at large, as they would be very useful particularly for the tourists and house-wives.

CHINESE MASSIVE BUILD-UP ALL ALONG INDIAN BORDER

Peking is building up bigger forces on the Indian-Tibet border.

The forces now being massed by China on this border are larger than the concentration in September-Octobet last year, prior to the invasion of India.

For the last one week in some areas in Ladakh, Indian and Chinese forces are facing each other at a narrow range.

The Chinese build-up in the region, which has been reported to be steady all along, has been rapid in the last few days.

The Chinese troops are in deployment along the entire border and in Ladakh have occupied some areas within the kilometres of their so-called "line of actual control".

The extent of forces massed by China constitutes a "definite and grave threat" to the security of India.

The renewed threat to India posed by the menacing forward deployment of Chinese troops all along the border was considered at the highest level yesterday. Prime Minister Nehru and Defence Minister Chavan appraised the situation to the Cabinet. The Defence Minister also conferred with the three service chiefs.

RURAL INDUSTRIES

The two working groups of rural industries projects set up by the Planning Commission have made far reaching proposals to promote industries in rural areas.

The most important proposal is to divert progressively a reasonable percentage of the rural working force from agriculture to industry.

A diversion is necessary, not only for providing better employment for rural people but also for relieving agriculture from the uneconomic burden.

It has recommended that the artisans and household industries in the project area should be provided on a priority basis with improved tools and training programme to raise the productivity and lower the cost of the production.

It says that the major industries should develop in the rural areas around them small-scale units to manufacture some of the stores and parts required by them.

Nehru Lashes Against C.D. Workers

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday lashed out at village-level workers and said there could be "nothing more abominable" than his trying to act as some kind of petty official

He said "a Gram Sevak, who tries to boss over people should be thrown into the sea or the nearest pond. He cannot be tolerated".

Sri Nehru said the very idea of raising the army of village level workers was to free villages from the influence of officials. "I want men and women in this country, who can feel free and are not afraid of anybody. I want men and women who can even stand upto me and knock me down if necessary. I do not want in this country people being pushed about like dumb driven cattle by officials or by anybody else for that matter".

Role Of Secondary Education

PANIKKAR OPENS REGIONAL COLLEGE

Mysore, Aug. 2

Sardar K. M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University, yesterday stressed the importance of secondary education in the country and called it the "very heart and core of any good system of education". .

Inaugurating the Regional College of Education here near Manasagangotri, the Vice-Chancellor said it was not primary education that could provide the needed technicians for our industries, nor the university degree that could help in the normal working of our industrial units. It was the skilled labour which came from secondary schools.

He said that unless secondary education was developed, neither industrial nor agricultural advancement could be achieved. Agriculture would advance only when farmers applied the latest scientific methods.

Sardar Panikkar said that sufficient attention was not paid to secondary education with the result it was in a 'chatic' condition.

He said that the Government of India had now realised that mere quantitative aspect of education at the secondary level would not give the type of people either for technical or university course.

They also realised that a uniform standard of education should be evolved if education had to deliver its goods. However, since education was a State subject, it could not interfere in the matter. It had therefore thought that the best way to solve the problem was to train up teachers on an all-India basis and hence had set up four regional training colleges.

He said Mysore City was ideally suited for such an institution. "I forsee a great future for the institute, because from whatever point of view we see, the development of secondary education will be one of the major developments in a few decades to come".

Sri G. Chaurasia, Principal, who welcomed the gathering said the Institute was a residential institution, accommodating 100 trainees at first and 300 in subsequent years. The Institute would train teachers for secondary schools in agriculture, commerce, crafts, home science, science and technology.

Sri Gupta proposed a vote of thanks.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT IN RUT

NEHRU UNHAPPY

Prime Minister Nehru stated yesterday that it was a pity that the whole movement of Community Development, which aimed at improving the quality of men and women in rural areas, was getting into the rut.

Inaugurating a conference of State Ministers of Community Development, Sri Nehru said: 'We are losing ourselves in procedures, in long discussions, some kind of shastrathas and not doing what we are supposed to do in this matter".

He said that after Panchayat Raj, there could be no half-way house between trusting people and not trusting them. "We must give power to the people even though it leads us to hell. We will certainly come out of the hell if we get there". But the banner of Panchayat Raj could not be taken forward without giving freedom and power to the people.

There was nothing wrong with the plans drawn by the Government from time to time. They were good plans But they had suffered in implementation. "The trouble is that we deal more with papers than with practical work. We prepare and issue such enormous papers as are difficult for people to digest", he added.

Sri Nehru said that he was all for co-operatives, but such co-operatives as were run by officials were a farce and a fraud It was necessary to rid co-operatives of official influence. It was the people who must run them. Otherwise, they would never grow. "Our co-operative movement, I must say, is remarkably slow in getting rid of officials who sit on it".

The Prime Minister said it was a painful thought that after 15 years of freedom they were still thinking of problems which they thought would, by now, be easier of solution. It was irritating and annoying to find that they were still at the door.

Sri Nehru said that the highest priority today should be given to agriculture. Everything else should be considered secondary. "If agriculture in this country fails, we fail, the country fails, the nation fails There is no help for us but to succeed in agriculture".

APPOINTMENT OF STAFF IN MYSOREVARSITY

PANIKKAR ASSAILS

Mysore, Aug. 3

Sardar K.M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University yesterday expressed surprise at the system of appointment of temporary lecturers (local candidates), prevailing in Mysore University.

He said that no where in the world such a system existed. This had landed the university in a most unsatisfactory state of affairs.

The Vice-Chancellor promised to evolve a solution to this problem soon.

He was speaking at a party given in his honour by the University Teachers' Association.

Sri K. Krishna Iyengar, President of the Association welcomed the gathering.

Sardar Panikkar said that the basic problem in Mysore University was the teaching-staff its recruitment, service condition and treatment.

The motto of a university, he said, should be a proper relationship between the administration and the teachers. Otherwise, the entire edifice of university education would collapse. The teaching staff should not only be properly selected, but it must also be given proper security of service and proper conditions to work under. He assured that these would be ushered soon in the Mysore University.

Speaking about the problem of university examinations, he said the best universities in the world were known for the honesty, integrity and perfection in the system of examinations. It was essential to maintain such conditions in our universities.

The Vice-Chancellor thought the main reason for the growing indiscipline among students was the anormous growth of the student population in the country. With the phenomenal growth in the number of college students, there was no contact possible between the teachers and the students. How could such contact be established when the students came in the size of a mob and left as factory workers.

In India, he said, there were 12,00,000 students. The problem of indiscipline could be solved only if the teachers managed to take more active interest in students, he added.

Patil Quits Union Cabinet

Union Food Minister S. K. Patil is reported to have submitted his resignation to the Prime Minister.

According to one version, the resignation was a sequel to the recent differences between Sri Patil and the Planning Minister Nanda, on the question of food policy and prices.

Another version is that he was asked to take over the Railways portfolio which he refused and prefer to leave the Government.

It is learnt that Prime Minister has informed Sri Patil that he had decided to make him Minister for Railways and to transfer Sardar Swaran Singh to take over the Ministry of Food and Agriculture.

Incentives To Farmers

PATIL'S PLEA

Union Food Minister Patil yesterday suggested to the State Governments to consider giving concrete incentives, including remission of land revenue in a large way to farmers who achieve higher production,

Inaugurating a two-day conference of State Ministers of Agriculture and C.D. at Delhi, Sri Patil said the next two or three months were critical for the country from the food point of view. He appealed to the State Governments to consider integrating all agricultural activity, including community development and co-operation, so that one Minister looking after them, could make himself responsible for producing adequate food required by the State and not indent for more food from the Central stocks.

The Board, in a resolution, while asking Congressmen not to indulge in public controversies devised a machinery to resolve their differences. It said "Whenever it is not possible for Congressmen to resolve differences between themselves, they should approach the Congress President, who should send for both the parties and take final decision after hearing them".

Fight 17th Amendment

RAJAJI'S CALL TO PEOPLE

Bangalore, Aug. 7

Sri C. Rajagopalachari, founder-leader of the Swatantra Party declared here yesterday that if the proposed 17th amendment to the Constitution (power so acquire land for public purpose by Government) was to be passed, the whole chapter of fundamental rights might as well be torn out of the Constitution as nothing remained thereafter.

He described the amending bill as tyrannical, fundamental interference with the right of the people.

Addressing the conference of Southern States organised by the All-India Agriculturists' Federation and the Mysore unit of the Swatantra Party, Rajaji pointed out that the power that was given under the Constitution to change the laws was utilised to attack those fundamental rights. "They are using the letter of the Constitution to kill the spirit. That is the substance what they are doing now".

The conference unanimously passed a resolution urging the Parliament to drop the 17th Amendment Bill and calling upon the people to oppose the bill by every constitutional means, if the Government persisted in it.

The resolution said the measure is highly controversial and prejudicial to the defence efforts.

The land reform acts which are to be saved by the constitutional amendment are going to result, if brought by force, in uprooting of tenants, economic ruin of landholders, splitting up of holdings, wasteful administrative expenditure, increased litigation, curtailment of production, heavy financial burdens on the State and widespread corruption.

K Hopes For No-War Pact

The Soviet Premier Khrushchev yesterday hailed the partial test ban agreement as a "document of great international importance" and said the next step would be the conclusion of a non-aggression pact between NATO and Warsaw Pact.

This sort of non-aggression pact, he said, would serve to show that the great powers, and particularly the nuclear powers could reach agreement.

Mr. Khrushchev said the most important thing now was "not to rest content with the achieved, not to stop the struggle against the threat of another war".

The Soviet people, he said, believed the social and class question should not be settled by war between States, but by the peoples of each country.

EAST PAK DAMS DESTROY INDIAN CROPS

The East Pakistan Government has constructed dams blocking the course of the two rivers, Nilkamal and Bhanggani, which run through the middle of Coch Behar district in West Bengal.

As a result of this action, wide areas in the district have been flooded and great damage has been done to the crops.

He paid tributes to British and American willingness to agree in the test ban treaty aud hopedit would "have a positive effect both on the international climate and on the relations between States". Signature of the treaty was "a good deed for all mankind", he added.

The treaty did not eliminate the danger of nuclear war. "The danger will hang over mankind so long as the arms race continued", he said.

Sino-Pak Joint Attack Possible

FEELS NEHRU

This might be a prelude to a fresh Chinese attack or part of its pressure tactics on India, he said.

Sri Nehru did not rule out the possibility of a simultaneous attack by China and Pakistan.

Replying to queries by members, he is understood to have said it was very difficult to know the Chinese mind. Even the Russians, with whom the Chinese were now engaged in an ideological war, had not been able to read their mind.

Although Sri Nehru was the first to offer his resignation, the AICC agreed with the Working Committee that he should stay in office to provide the connecting link between the administration and the organisation and the leadership.

Indo-Pak Accord

Nehru Gives Up Hope

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday ruled out the possibility of any further move to seek a peaceful solution to the Kashmir dispute in the immediate future.

He told the Lok Sabha that the generous concessions which India had offered in its desire to arrive at a settlement were no longer open and they must be treated as withdrawn. Judging from the impossible terms of reference which Pakistan had been suggesting for a mediation, it looked as though Rawalpindi was not keen on any settlement with India, he added.

Lok Sabha Admits Censure Motion

Houses For Soligas

Mysore, Aug. 14

Sri S. Nijalingappa, Chief Minister yesterday declared open 30 houses for Soligas (hill tribes) at B.R. Hills and 20 houses at Kyathedevaragudi, constructed by the State Social Welfare Department.

The Chief Minister felt unhappy that these soligas were still living not as human beings but like animals in the forest. He suggested that big colonies consisting of at least 100 houses with facilities for agriculture and industry should be set up for these hill tribes.

Smt. Yashodara Dasappa, who presided said it was not the paucity of funds that came in the way of implementing welfare schemes. It was the misuse of funds. She wanted honest workers with missionary zeal to take up this work. She also suggested the establishment of service co-operatives for hill tribes so that they could get their needs.

Forest Minister Rachiah regretted that in the Third Plan period the tempo of housing programme for Harijan and Scheduled Tribes was considerably slowed down. Perhaps it was due to the diversion of funds for increasing the agricultural output. He appealed to the Chief Minister to provide more funds for housing programme.

President Calls For United March

President Radhakrishnan has called upon the people to work "together with unity and purposefulness" as the country has "yet to go a long way to the achievement of our goal".

In a broadcast to the nation on the occasion of the 16th Independence Day, the President said: "If we put forth our determined efforts we can transform the country into a modern civilised state where people work in a co-operative way and build up our countary"

Dr. Radhakrishnan called upon the people to strengthen the moral fibre of the nation as "unfortunately at the moment we have factional strife, personal rivalries, pressure groups, scramble for power which impede the development of a national ethos".

Additionally "the ugly scenes we sometimes see in legislative chambers and public meetings do not bring credit to us", he said and hoped such things would be avoided.

Reader's Forum:

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Sir,

It is being commonly observed at least here in the City of Mysore that while the National Anthem is being played at the end of the movies, many people instead of quitely standing at their places, keep on moving, talking, lighting their cigarettes and so on. It is a pity that one has to see such a sorry spectacle even after 15 years of Independence. This not only amounts to, under-mining the significance of the national symbol but showing disrespect to all those people who have laid down their lives and have stood for the country. We have got to stop this. I appeal to the patriotic sense of the people that every one should consider it to be his responsibility and duty to see that proper discipline is maintained while the National Anthem is being played.

Prime Minister Nehru told the Lok Sabha yesterday that the Chinese had not only acted in violation of the Colombo proposals but also in violation even of their unilateral declaration by establishing a large number of military posts in the demilitarised zone and resorting to offensive patrolling and probing in the border areas.

He said the Chinese had inducted fresh troops into Tibet and augmented the strength of their forces along the border. The strength of the Chinese forces along our borders today "is larger than what it was at the time of the unprovoked massive attacks in Oct. 1962'.

Apart from this, a further development had been the forward movement of these troops to camps and strong-points nearer the Indian border than they were last October.

There had been during the last few months, considerable activity by way of barracks, gun emplacements, storage dumps and air-fields near the Indian border, he added.

24-HOUR ULTIMATUM TO STRIKERS

CITY COUNCIL ISSUES NOTICE

Mysore, Aug. 19

The City Municipal Council, at its special meeting held here yesterday, warned the 900 sweepers and scavengers who had been on strike since Friday, that their strike was illegal and asked them to return to duty within 24 hours, failing which disciplinary action would be taken against them.

The meeting authorised the Commissioner to take suitable action in this respect.

The Council also approved the Health Committee's proposal asking the Government to declare immediately the work of scavengers and sanitary staff of the municipality as "essential services' and bring the services of the local bodies under the Defence of India Rule.

Sri K. Siddiah, President, said the sweepers and scavengers had flouted his advice and had gone on strike demanding an additional monthly dearness allowance of Rs. 5, on the ground that it was being paid to the Government and local bodies employees.

He explained that no municipality in the State had sanctioned this additional D.A. to the scavengers and sweepers. However, he had sought clarification from the Government.

As regards the plea of the strikers to fill up the 32 vacant posts of scavengers by appointing their relatives, he poined out that these posts were abolished as being superflous two years back and they could not claim it as hereditory jobs.

Both the Congress and the Opposition members condemned the strike.

Sri B. N. Kenge Gowda, leader of the Congress party said that the demands of the strikers would be considered only after they returned to duty unconditionally.

Sri B.K. Puttiah (PSP) alleged that some Congressmen and Communists were behind the strike.

Sri H. N. Muddiah (Cong.) demanded severe action against the strikers.

Sri Vedantha Hemmige complained that some dissident Congressmen had instigated the strike.

Sri Anantharamiah (Cong,) wanted the strikers to resume their duties unconditionally.

Sri L. Chikkarangappa charged the supervisory staff of the Health Department were corrupt and not able to control their subordinates.

Sri Masood and Sri Khaleel, labour leaders, blamed the Communists for the strike and urged for action against them under the D.I.R.

Only the Communist member, Sri Belliappa, said that they had yet to establish that the strike was illegal.

KRIPALANI FLAYS NEHRU GOVT. POLICIES

NO-CONFIDENCE MOTION IN LOK SABHA

The 17-year-old Congress Government, for the first time, faced a public indictment, when Acharya Kripalani, moving the no-confidence motion in the Lok Sabha declared: "This Government has failed in its foreign policy, it has failed in its home policy".

Acharya Kripalani at the end of a one-hour broadside called for fresh general elections so that an alternative Government could be formed.

A crowded House and packed galleries heard Acharya Kripalani and many other Opposition leaders censure the Government on issues ranging from China policy to the use of emergency powers.

Sri Kripalani charged the Government with pushing people into "a slough of economic depression", criticised the foreign policy pursued by India and spoke of corruption "in the higher ranks".

He said that the question was asked of him by many Congressmen as to who would form a new Government if the present one went out of office. "If this Government leaves, there will be general elections and whoever comes in the general elections shall form a Government". If no party was returned in adquate majority, there could be a coalition Government, he said.

He said in this country like other countries, it was not necessary that a single party should come out in prepondent strength to form a ministry. If no party came out in a majority, some parties could unite to give a government "even as we have united this time in regard to this motion".

Sri Minoo Masani (Swatantra) said one class of people had improved its lot after Independence. "They are the politicians in office, high officials and businessmen who are hand in glove with the politicians". The middle class was crushed between the rising prices and the mounting taxes.

Sri S.N. Dwivedy (PSP) said the policy of the Government and the leadership had failed in several directions with the result people looked at Government with "utter contempt".

Sri Dwivedy flourished a paper which he claimed to be a document establishing the partnership of Sri Patnaik, Orissa's Chief Minister, with Serajuddian and Company in 1954. He said the Deputy Chief Minister of Orissa had made a profit of Rs. 16 lakhs in the course of four years.

Prof. Mukerjee (Communist) said his party wanted to "emphatically dissociate" itself from the stand taken by Acharya Kripalani, who had sought to redicule the non-alignment in foreign policy but he went on to assail the Government for entering into the "unsavoury" Voice of America deal and the joint air exercises agreement.

He said: "What we want is that the Council of Ministers, as constituted at present, should go and the Prime Minister should reorganise it keeping out reactionary Ministers, among whom of course, Finance and the Food Ministers take the cake".

Bombay Strike

Dock operations came to a standstill, taxis were off the roads and several hotels remained closed as thousands of Bombay workers struck work yesterday in sympathy with the municipal employees, who stopped work a week ago, demanding a 25 per cent increase in dearness allowance.

Nearly 90,000 workers, including 25,000 civic and 10,000 bus transport employees, are on strike.

The latest to join the strike were 15,000 dock workers, 17,000 taxi drivers operating 7,000 taxis and 15,000 hotel employees.

Scavengers Call Off Strike

Mysore, Aug. 20

About 900 sweepers and scavengers of the City Municipality who were on strike since Friday last, decided yesterday to call off the strike unconditionally. They resumed work from today.

The strikers' representatives met Sri K. Siddiah, Municipal President and Sri T. J. Ramakrishna, Commissioner and yesterday afternoon and expressed their regret for their "ill-advised and misguided" action.

The authorities advised them to submit their grievances if any, in writing and the Municipal Council would consider them sympathetcially.

It might be stated that the Municipal Council on Sunday had issued an ultimatum to them to return to work within 24 hours or face disciplinary action.

Nehru Defends Joint Air Exercises

Prime Minister Nehru declared in the Lok Sabha yesterday that the participation of foreign aircraft for a few weeks merely for training purposes did not make the slightest difference in India's basic policies.

The responsibility for the air defence of India was solely that of the Indian Air Force and so India's domestic and foreign policy remained unimpaired.

Sri Nehru recalled the main features of the agreement with the US and UK for the supply of radar and for holding joint air training exercises and said that the holding of these exercises did not commit the US or UK Governments to any action in the event of a Chinese attack upon India.

He added: "We have made it quite clear that the defence of India, including its air defence, is wholly and solely the responsibility of the Government of India".

NO OBSERVERS FOR INDO-PAK BORDER

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday rejected in the Lok Sabha a proposal that international observers should be sent to the Indo-Pakistan border to check on reports of massing of troops on either side.

"It is not proposed to bring in international observers all over our frontiers", Sri Nehru said in reply to Sri N. G. Ranga who made the suggestion.

Nation Betrayed In Every Way

SAYS KRIPALANI

Acharya Kripalani winding up the debate on the no-confidence motion in the Lok Sabha stated that the Government had "betrayed the nation not in one way but in every way".

He said: "I am ashamed to hear people saying that the British Government was a better Government. Can there by a greater shame for the country? I want to bury myself in the ground when I hear such things".

The Acharya said that as far as Sri Menon was concerned he could say about him had come true and it had the seal of the Prime Minister, It was Sri Nehru who accepted his resignation and put the seall upon his incompetence.

He asked "why did the Prime Minister accept Sri Menon's resignation? If his instructions and policies had been carried out, the Prime Minister himself should have said: I resign and not this innocent man".

Sri Kripnlani said that Sri Nehru had talked about the people getting out of the ruts. But it was for the Government to get out of them. It was a question of proper leadership. "The leadership has failed. There is no doubt that the country has been betrayed, but not in one way but in every way".

He said that even after 15 years of independence it had not been possible to ensure the people the basic necessities like two square meals, a house, education and clothing.

Opposition, he said, had failed only in one respect and that was that it was divided. But no member of the Opposition had accused another of bribery and corruption. It was the Gevernment's party members who had accused one another of bribery,corruption and nepotism.

Sri Kripalani said: "I say go to the people, listen to them. Do not sit here in chairs".

FEELING OF PEOPLE GUIDES DEMOCRACY

Mysore, Aug. 26

Sardar Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University stated here on Saturday that "intellectual leadership is an instrument in democracy and it could not guide the people. Democracy is guided by the feeling of people".

Inaugurating the study circle of Gandhi Vichara Parishad, he said that essentials of democracy were that common men with medium intelligence assume leadership. Intellectual leadership in democracy would not come from highly intellectual people because their thinking process was different from the ordinary people. "There are of course exceptional circumstances in which really intellectuals do assume leadership like our Prime Minister", he said.

Sri Panikkar said that intellectual leadership had to come from small groups. The problem was, therefore, to get intellectuals to serve political leadership which would give effect to what groups of intellectuals said. An intellectual group separated from general masses without responsibilities would only be voicing its views in the air.

Earlier, Sri M. Yamunacharya welcomed the gathering. Sri K. S. Narayanaswamy, Secretary proposed a vote of thahks.

TWELVE SENIOR MINISTERS TO QUIT FOR PARTY WORK

NEHRU IMPLEMENTS KAMRAJ PLAN

The Congress Working Committee, on Saturday, decided that six Central Ministers - Morarji Desai, Lal Bahadur Shastri, Jagjiwan Ram, S.K. Patil, B Gopala Reddy and K. L. Shrimali and six Chief Ministers of State-K. Kamaraj (Madras) B. Patnaik (Orissa), C. B. Gupta (U.P.), Binodanand Jha (Bihar), B. R. Mandloi (Madhya Pradesh) and Bakshi Ghulam Mohammad (Kashmir) should withdraw from the Government and take to party work.

The decision, taken on the recommendation of Prime Minister is meant to implement the Kamraj Plan by which senior Congressmen were asked to take up party work. Following the AICC resolution, all the Central Ministers and Chief Ministers of States tendered their resignation to Sri Nehru.

Sri Nehru told the Working Committee that besides the recommendations he had made, he might make some other suggestion at some what later stage.

He said that changes in the States could not take place suddenly. They had to depend on several factors and might have to be phased a little, following time for the election of their successors and smooth working of both Government and organisation.

Sri Nehru also expressed the desirability of having "not too big" councils of Ministers in States, where Cabinets will undergo reconstitution with the resignation of the Chief Ministers.

In making his recommendtions for the implementation of the Kamaraj Plan, Sri Nehru said the action taken should be "big enough to be important and striking". He said he had made a balance between the consideration of administrative efficiency and organisational work so that the administration should not suffer and at the same time the main purpose of the AICC resolution was achieved.

The Working Committee decided to reconstitute the Parliamentary Board increasing its membership from five to seven, besides the Congress President.

The board has been authorised to appoint a sub-committee to inquire into any serious complaints and charges made against Congressmen.

Another decision was to set up an eleven-member committee for revitalising the organisation.

MASS PETITION BY PSP

TO BE PRESENTED TO C.M. ON SEPT. 2

Mysore, Aug. 27

Sri Shivappa, Chairman of the State Unit of the Praja-Socialist Party, told newsmen yesterday that the Party has decided to present a mass petition signed by over a lakh of people, to Chief Minister Nijalingappa at Vidana Soudha on Sept. 2, when the State Legislature commences, demanding the immediate removed of land surcharge and full-pledged judicial enquiry into the Sharavathy Project affair.

The PSP Chief said that his party has decided to observe "Janajagriti" (Mass Awakening) Week from Aug. 26 to Sept. 2 throughout the State, by holding public meetings to explain the Party's Bhopal resolution and also to collect signatures for the mass petition.

Sri Shivappa said that the Chief Minister had held out a promise in the Assembly last year that he would look into the affairs of the Sharavathi Project. But he had failed in his promise.

He alleged that the Sharavathi Project had been mishandled and crores of rupees had been misspent to satisfy the contractors of their choice, by illegal awards and giving contracts on negotiation basis. By this, the State exchequer had lost several crores of rupees.

The land surcharge by increasing by 100 percent was not legal as there was mo re-survey and revision of rent as per the Act.

He said there would be differences among Congressmen as they ought to be and it was justifiable to express one's opinion freely. But it was intolerable for Congressmen to behave in a manner which would constitute a breach of discipline and unity of the party. Asked whether there was any possibility of Mysore being represented on the Central Cabinet, the Chief Minister said the question now agitating the leaders' mind in Delhi was of reorganisation rather than of Cabinet expansion. LEGAL MEASURES AGAINST UNTOUCHABILITY

The Commissioner for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, Sri Anil K Chanda, has suggested in his annual report, that the legal provision against the practice of untouchability should be utilised effectively, along with educative measures.

This, he says, can best be done by the field staff of the Community Development Programme and Welfare departments. Village Level Workers, as recommended in the last report, may be made responsible for reporting the offences under the Act.

The Commissioner has also advised that the State Governments may consider appointing committees to ascertain the extent of untouchability practised in their areas.

In all the States, the Commissioner says, inscriptions warning people against stopping anyone from using public wells and the punitive measures prescribed in the Untouchability Act should be engraved on all public wells whether old or new. Licences should be issued to hair cutting saloons, restaurants, etc only on condition that they will put up notices at prominent places in their shops that there will be no discrimination against the Scheduled Castes.

The Commissioner says that all the State Governments while preparing the scheme of settlement of landless labourers should devote special attention to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes who form 42% of the total landless labourers.

Cut In Mysore Cabinet

DISSIDENT CONGRESSMEN'S DEMAND

Mysore, Sept. 2

The dissident Congressmen of Mysore District, who met here at a conference on Saturday, welcomed the "Kamaraj Plan" and urged that senior Congressmen in office in the State should implement the Plan. It also urged for reduction in the size of the Mysore Cabinet.

The conference regretted the "unconstitutional, illegal and unscrupulous" methods adopted by those in office in the recent organisational elections and urged the AICC to appoint broad-based ad-hoc committees at all levels with a view to set matters right and put the organisation in proper gear.

The meeting urged the Government to take immediate action in giving necessary relief to the drought areas in Mysore District.

The conference viewed with great concern the utter indifference and dilatory attitude of the State Government to the insistant public demand for a judicial enquiry into the alleged Sharavathi deals. It demanded for a top level comprehensive judicial enquiry into all allegations of "misuse of power, mismanagement, corruption and substandard work" in Sharavathy Hydel Project.

It deplored the present Riparian policy of the State in regard to the full utilisation of Mysore share of waters in the Krishna and the Cauvery, which they complained, were being conditioned by political consideration in utter disregard of the interests of the State.

The meeting urged the State Governmrnt to take legal remedy for the rightful share in Krishna waters.

The conference also viewed with great concern the attitude of the State Government in implementing the projects under Cauvery as originally contemplated.

The meeting decided to constitute a ten-man sub-committee to take necessary steps to safeguard the interest of the State in Cauvery waters.

Lowest Standard In State Medical Colleges

SAYS UNION HEALTH MINISTER

Mysore, Sept. 3

Dr. Sushila Nayyar, Union Health Minister stated here yesterday that she was sorry to state that the standard of medical colleges in Mysore State was the lowest in India and this she blamed partly to students and mainly to the teaching staff.

She said it was the duty of the staff, Government and the University to improve the standard of medical colleges in the State.

Inaugurating the Mysore Medical College Association, the Union Health Minister deprecated the starting of more medical colleges in the country. She said as there was shortage of teachers and equipment and high rate of failures, it was better to consolidate the existing medical colleges by improving the standard of medical education rather than opening more medical colleges.

She said she would very much be happy if not even one medicul college was started during the remaining period of the Third Plan till the existing ones were improved.

She said it was undesirable to admit ordinary students to medical colleges because they belonged to the backward classes. She was also against the scheme of bringing the students directly from high schools to the medical colleges.

The Minister said that the Union Government was trying to discourage our students going abroad for medical education. In her opinion more students should be allowed for post-graduate courses. Here she said the Central Government was considering the question of introducing all-India examination at post-graduate level to have a uniform system. The Inter-University Board had suggested regional examinations for post-graduates and this was a step in the right direction.

She advocated the rotating house surgeons ship system in the health service also so that students could serve municipalities and corporations and also primary health centres.

Mysore Health Minister Nagappa Alva presided.

Dr. J. J. Dharmaraj, Dean, welcomed the gathering.

Sri M. P. Sreeyamshu, Secretary, presenting a report, pleaded for an auditorium and sports pavillson for the medical college.

China Wanted To Hit Russia Through India

Prime Minister Nehru told the Rajya Sabha that the "raison d 'etre" for Peking's decision to attack India was to prove the Soviet Union wrong in its views on co-existence and India's non-aligned status.

By this reckoning, the reason for China's aggressive action against India was indirectly connected with its conflict with the Soviet Union which had now reached a critical stage.

The Prime Minister's analysis of the Sino-Soviet conflict was that Russia had stopped helping China which perhaps annoyed Peking Secondly, China was not in accord with the Soviet Union's views on co-existence and the policy of non-alignment pursued by countries like India. No country was keener than China in decrying India's non-alignment policy.

The other reason for the Chinese attack on India was that it disliked the presence of another big country like India which adhered to a different system and policy.

Sri Nehru said it was difficult to predict whether China would again indulge in adventurism against India because of frustration caused by various internal difficulties.

China had moved larger concentration of troops and supplies to the Indian border areas. That could only be thought of in terms of some action they might be contemplating It was possible that other factors might prevent their launching another attack.

India had nevertheless to be prepared to meet any contingency, he added.

Foodgrains Smuggled To China

Sri Ganga Saran Sinha, leader of the PSP group stated in the Rajya Sabha that there was a need for a well co-ordinated policy for strengthening the country's frontier with China

It was absolutely necessary for the Government to take steps to see that all such activities were stopped and offenders brought to book, he added.

RATIONAL LAND USE

If even a third of the land lying barren could be salvaged and placed at the forest department, the proportion of the land under forest in the country will be raised to nearly one-third of the land area which is considered to be the minimum for the proper economic development of the country, stated Sri K. P. Sagreiya, President of the Forest Research Institute and Colleges

He has pointed out that 16 per cent of the land in the country was under agriculture, 24 per cent under forest and 12 per cent was not available either for agricultural or forestry because it was utilised for habitation, mining etc. As much as 18 per cent of the land was lying barren although it was potentially productive under agriculture, forestry or pasturage.

Pilgrim-Tourist Centres

STATE GOVT.'S SCHEME

Mysore, Sept. 9

Five pilgrim places had been selected to improved as tourist centres in the State, revealed Revenue Minister Krishnappa here yesterday. They were Sravanabelagola, Biligirirangana Hills, Mahadeshwara Hills and Annamma Temple near Belgaum. The development of Subramanya and Gokarna was also under the consideration, he said.

He was participating in the 14th Masthakabhisheka of the 800-year-old Gomateswara at Gomatagiri, about 16 miles from here.

The Minister said that a Rs. 15-lakh building known as "Gomateswara Mahal" with 200 rooms and spacious halls will be constructed by the State Government at Sravanabelagola for the convenience of pilgrims attending the Mahamastakabhisheka of Gomateswara to be held in 1965.

He said that these rooms will cost Rs. 5,000 each and it would be named after the donors who pay half the cost of the room.

Ultimately the building, he said, will be used for housing the arts and science college.

Sri Krishanppa said that a high-power committee with the Chief Minister as Chairman will be constituted to take steps for implementing the pilgrim-centre development schemes.

The Minister said that the Government would advance loans for the improvement of many famous temples in the State as the Muzrai department had no funds of its own. The loan would be paid back from the income of these temples.

More than 5,000 people attended the Mastakabhi. sheka ceremony.

Sri S. D. Nagendran, Chairman of Sri Gomateswara Kshetra Seva Mandali, welcomed the gathering and urged that the Gomatagiri should be made as a pilgrim-cum-tourist centre by providing rest house and other conveniences. He also wanted that this should be included in the Muzrai department.

Uniformity In Primary Education

Bangalore, Sept. 9

Education Minister Kanti stated in the Assembly that steps had already been taken to have early uniformity in primary education in the entire State and also a uniform grant-in-aide code.

He said the State had over 25,000 villages with more than 30,000 schools at primary level. Although the Government thought of having a school for every village or group of villages with a population of 300, ultimately it had set a target of providing a school for every 250 population.

There were 80.000 teachers all over the State in primary schools-

The working of the free compulsory primary education had shown that 90 per cent of the school-going age children were attending classes.

The Government had provided Rs 250 lakhs in the budget for granting Rs. 1,000 each for a class room. If it had to have buildings for 35-lakh children in schools now, it would cost the Government Rs. 30 crores. He appealed to the members not to ask the Government to bear the responsibility but to help in securing public co-operation in this regard.

NO FLYING OF PEKING PLANES

The Parliamentary Congress Party Executive has suggested to the Government that under no circumstances should Chinese planes be allowed to fly over India under the recent Sino-Pak Air agreement.

Changes In CDS, Gold Rules Urged

The Congress Party Executive is understood to have urged for drastic changes in the Compulsory Deposit Scheme and Gold Control Rules.

They were of opinion that CDS should not be made applicable to the rural sector. Some urged that any relief should not only cover the salaried employees earning between Rs. 1,500 to 3,000 per annum, but also lower slabs of income-tax.

The consensus on gold control was that it should be more strictly enforced to prevent smuggling and to secure declarations of primary gold holdings. The ban on manufacture of ornaments in excess of 14-carat purity, however, should be relaxed.

SOVIET AID TO BOKARO

The Soviet Union has offered to assist India in setting up the Bokaro steel plant in the public sector.

While Russia is keen to prove the success of any public sector undertaking in India, it would take care to avoid offense to the American administration.

Though President Kennedy had accepted Prime Minister Nehru's offer of withdrawal of the Bokaro scheme from the U. S. scene, the Soviet Union is aware that direct participation of Moscow in the project as an affront by certain Congressional circles.

Plight Of Indians In China

About 100 Indians resident in China are being subjected to a deprivation campaign.

The Chinese Communist authorities have confiscated their properties. They are receiving less food rations and no relief is being allowed to the most elderly of them who are incapable of work.

Before the Communist came to power, Indians were a prosperous community in China. Most Indians fled when the Communist Government was set up in Peking but the elder ones stayed on. The Communists confiscated their shops and business and handed them over to the Chinese. The Indians were forced to work as employees and labourers in their own shops.

EXCHAGE OF HINDUS AND MUSLIMS

The Executive Committee of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha has adopted a resolution demanding exchange of Muslims in Bengal and Assam with the Hindus in East Pakistan.

The committee has called upon the people "to mobilise opinion" against parties and groups, which were "as much a danger to the country as the Communist Party of India".

He said the Government was inquiring further into information that had come to light with the discovery of the espionage activities involving the Pakistani Air Adviser and arrest of a person in Calcutta.

Pilot Officer Sharma was arrested on Sept. 2, for passing on important information to the Pakistan High Commission in New Delhi.

Both individual and collective battle training has been stepped up.

He said certain reorganisation had been carried out at the Army headquarters and commanders at different levels had been made aware of their responsibilities to ensure that the accepted chain of command functioned undisturbed.

Three new divisions had already been raised and three more were being raised according to a time schedule.

On the logistics front, he said the Border Roads Development Board had already approved a programme of 3,000 miles of new roads, improvement to and maintenance of 3,000 miles of existing roads and surfacing of about 300 miles.

To meet the increased requirement for training for other ranks as many as 15 new training centres had been established. Simultaneously the capacity of existing training centres had been expanded. By the beginning of next year 8,000 officers would have been commissioned.

He said an assurance had just been received from the United States in respect of supply of plant required for the small arms ammunition factory. Assurances of financial assistance had been received from the United Kingdom for another factory.

Sri Chavan said: "I would like to assure the House that measures to strengthen out defence will be pursued with vigour and steadfastness".

Any change in a decision already taken was not a matter to be treated lightly. He left it to the Finance Minister to examine the question and report.

PAK ACTION RETALIATORY

Prime Minister Nehru told the Lok Sabha that the action of the Pakistan Government insisting on a recall of the Indian Air Adviser and three officials appeared to be retaliatory measure.

When asked whether the Government would resist their all demand, he said, whether Pakistan charges were correct or not, the Government of India had to recall the officials when a demand was made.

At What Cost!

Bangalore, Sept. 11

The State Khadi and Village Industries Board purchased a van in October, 1956 for Rs. 12,400. In 1959, it was repaired at a cost of Rs. 9,166. The van was sold in 1960 for Rs. 4,650.

The Khadi Board had not compiled its accounts and made them available for audit since its inception.

The Department of Agriculture had incurred a loss of Rs. 22. 79 lakhs in its Tractor and Bulldozer organisation since 1956-57 due to lack of demand for the same, frequent breakdowns and increased operational cost.

In the Mysore Government Road Transport Corporation, the shortage due from conductors were increasing and the amount due at the end of 1960 61 was Rs. 1,49,215.

In eight departments of the Government, defective planning had resulted in machinery worth of Rs. 30.21 lakhs lying unused for over five years.

Due to illicit cutting of sandalwood trees on a large scale in the forests of Sandur Range, the loss was estimated to be Rs. 10 lakhs.

NO U.S. PRESSURE

President Kennedy stated yesterday that the United States would like to see India and Pakistan settle the Kashmir problem, because in the U.S. view this was the best way to defend the sub continent against Communism. But the struggle between India and Pakistan was more important to many people in the two countries than was the battle against the Communists.

Asked whether the U. S. could not exercise more influence to settle the problem, he said "we cannot expect these countries to do everything the way we want to do them".

Mushroom Engg. Colleges

The Southern Regional Committee of the All-India Council of Technical Education, meeting at Madras, has expressed deep concern over the starting of many engineering colleges in Mysore State by private agencies without prior consultation and sanction of the authorities concerned, collecting capitation fees from the students.

It is stated that there were already five engineering colleges in Mysore without any affiliation from the university in its area or with only a temporary affiliation.

The committee felt that it would ordinarily take five to six years to build up an engineering college with generous assistance from the State and Central Governments. If it were built upon the funds collected from the students only, it would require about 20 years to come up to the standard laid down by the Regional Committee.

It felt that when such a college approached an university for affiliation, the university should insist on an endowment of Rs. 30 lakhs plus buildings, equipment, hostel facilities and playground on a minimum area of 50 acres of land.

Rural Folk Better Fed & Clothed

SAYS NANDA

Union Planning Minister Nanda refused in the Lok Sabha to share the gloomy view of Dr. Lohia on the existence of large-scale poverty in the country and said nobody could deny that people in the rural areas were today better fed and better clothed.

He spoke of the progress in various fields like health, education, transport made in 15 years and claimed it was no mean achievement. The argument of 'perpetual starvation' was certainly not compatible with this situation, whatever views one might hold about statistics.

Sri Nanda agreed that there was no social or economic justification for the vast disparities in income but appealed that the problem should be dealt with as a national question and not as a party question. "I feel the disparities should be reduced and it can be done".

He said that the Five-Year Plans had succeeded in breaking the condition of perpetual stagnation in the country's economy and the investment in industries was bound to ensure economic independence in the next 10 to 12 years.

The Lok Sabha was told by Minister Subramaniam that the Government would go ahead with Bokaro as a public sector steel plant with as little further delay as possible.

He said that the Government had utilised the last 18 months in preparing the ground while simultaneously conducting negotiations with the U. S. Government.

The Minister said it was the Government's intention to associate as closely as possible Indian talent and Indian experts and use fully the indigenous capacity already available in the construction of the plant.

The four-million-ton Bokaro steel plant will cost Rs. 550 crores and the foreign exchange will be about 50per cent of the total cost.

The project is expected to be completed in two stages by 1970-71, about five years earlier than the target date suggested by the American survey team.

Unlike the Bhilai and Durgapur steel projects for which machinery came mostly from one source, Bokaro will have machinery from various countries.

FINANCES FOR PANCHAYATS

The Study Team on Panchayati Raj Finances under the Chairmanship of K. Santhanam, has suggested that a basic minimum maintenance grant, to be shared equally by State and Central Governments, of rupee one per capita should be given to every Panchayat. Wherever enough land is not available, the State Government should acquire and give at least five acres of land to the Panchayat for house sites compost-making etc.

The entire tax demand of a Panchayat, excluding arrears, be taken as the basis for matching grant and if a collection of 75 per cent is made in a year, an amount equal to 15 per cent of such collection should be given as matching grant which should increase at least by one per cent for every additional 5 per cent collection. House tax, professional tax and vehicle tax, including tax on cycle, should be compulsory taxes. Panchayats may levy tax on animals and on produce sold in villages by weight, measurement or number. The whole or a part of entertainment tax collected by the State in rural areas should be shared with Panchayats and Panchayat Samitis.

Village Farm Production Plan

Mysore, Sept. 18

The two-day seminar on Agricultural Production Plan, which concluded here Sunday, unanimously agreed that the preparation and implementation of the plan should be the main responsibility of the panchayats. In this task, the panchayats should associate the co-operatives and other voluntary organisations and takeup technical assistance of the agricultural extension officers.

The seminar was of opinion that an intensive drive should be undertaken to publicise the procedure involved in drawing up the plan so that the panchayats could understand and take active interest in the plan.

It urged that supplies and services through the cooperatives should be ensured, particularly improved seeds. It was emphasised that only germinations tested and treated seeds should be distributed to the registered seed growers and other farmers.

The seminar suggested that active steps should be undertaken by the panchayats to see that composting was taken up by individuals and institutions. Role of co-operatives in the distribution of fertilisers and plant protection chemicals was stressed and it was urged that they should play an active part in the task.

It urged that expeditious action should be taken to see that the farmers were given all the assistance required to enable them to utilise the resources promptly.

Society To Be Classified as A,B,C.

FOR EDUCATIONAL CONCESSIONS

Mysore, Sept. 18

Finance Minister Jatti has suggested that for equitable utilisation of educational concessions offered by the Government, the society should be classified as A,B,C-- rich, middle and poor.

He said the poor section should be given free education from primary upto college with free food, clothing, sheltor and books. The middle class should be exempted fees and the rich ones should be levied higher fees.

This, in his opinion, would remove the cry that the educational concessions given by the Government on the economic criterion, was helpful not merely for the poor but also for the well-placed persons.

The Minister was speaking at Kollegal on Monday when he laid the corner-stone for the Rs. 12-lakh water supply scheme for Kollegal town.

He assured the Kollegal Town Panchayat that the Government would secure them a loan of Rs. 10 lakhs from a bank.

Sri Jatti also laid the foundation-stone for Rs. 10-lakh dam on Suvarnavati river near Mugur in Kollegal taluk.

Pakistan-China Flirtation

BASED ON AGGRESSION OF INDIA

Prime Minister Nehru told the Lok Sabha that despite India's consistent attempts to settle her differences with Pakistan peacefully, the position had worsened because of the attempts made by Pakistan to join with China on the "sole basis of aggression of India."

Mr. Nehru said that Pakistan and China had nothing in common and even now Pakistan was tied down to various military alliances directed against China.

Curiously, these approaches had been made and all kinds of statements appeared from time to time to show that great love existed between Pakistan and China, which was based not on any common ideals.

To those who asked why India had not settled her differences with Pakistan all these years, Mr. Nehru replied that the absence of a settlement was not due to any attempt on India's part to avoid a settlement. India had tried hard and would continue to try hard.

But it would be weill to remember that some problems like Germany, Berlin and Indo-China had dragged on from year to year without a settlement because they had "roots in other matters"

POSTAL FACILITY IN RURAL AREAS

Sri D N. Ramchandani, Postmaster-General, Mysore Circle said that in the current financial year, 72 post offices had been opened in the rural areas. The number of villages having a daily delivery service had increased to nearly 16,000.

Sri Ramachandani said that the number of telegraph offices in the Circle had increased to 525. Steps were also being taken to intensify measures to check postal inefficiency and pilferage of articles. Efforts were also being made to elimilate misdirection of mails and for the expeditious delivery of articles.

TTK Against Controls To Hold Price Line

Union Finance Minister Krishnamachari stated in the Rajya Sabha that the present increase in prices was due to shortages in certain commodities than to monetary inflation.

While expressing concern over the rise in prices, he said the economy had slowed down mainly because money was coming more into Government coffers. The Government's revenues were extremely buoyant.

He conceded that there should be stabilisation of prices, but asked whether the country was prepared to accept the logical consequences of the Government attempting to hold the price line, namely, introduction of controls.

He said it would mean the Government assuming responsibility for fulfilling which "we have not got adequate powers or adequate backing of public opinion".

Sardar Patel Statue In Delhi

President Radhakrishnan unveiling a 13-foot stone statue of the late Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel at the crossing of Parliament street in Delhi reminded the people that the process of consolidating the country set in motion by the Sardar had yet to be carried through to fruition

Physical coherence had yet to be transformed into emotional integration. This task could be performed only in a democratic climate which guaranteed the four freedoms, political, economic, cultural and social and created conditions for the unfettered of these freedoms.

The President said the freedom of speech guaranteed by a democratic arrangement did not stand for impertinence. The frequent misuse of this basic freedom in Parliament was unhealthy and did not augur well for the growth of sound parliamentary traditions.

NEFA Defects Being Set Right

—CHAVAN

Defence Minister Chavan assured in the Rajya Sabha that corrective action was being taken to set right defects and deficiencies brought out in the NEFA enquiry.

He said that there was no political interference with the army which could be ascribed as leading to the reverses in NEFA last year. He rejected the demand for fixing individual responsibility for the reverses.

Sri Chavan said that the civil authority had to give guidance to the army, which was its instrument but how and when an enemy attack had to be met was certainly left to military leadership.

The Defence Minister said that no doubt there was some thing militarily wrong on our side, but pointed out that China's over-whelming military strength and advantageous terrain had helped her in her trecherous attack.

Advocating peaceful co-operation between the United States and the Soviet Union, Mr. Kennedy said as major nuclear Powers, they had special responsibilities requiring them to "concentrate less on our differences and more on the means of resolving them peacefully".

The U. S. President said that peace did not merely depend on the great Powers, but also on smaller countries. If the Soviet Union and the U.S. with all their conflicts, could find areas of common agreement, then nations caught in regional conflicts, racial issues and death throes of old colonialism could do the same.

A National Institute for Higher Education with five-fold functions of teaching, research, extension, accreditation and examination, has been recommended by the Directors of National Institutes, who met at Delhi on Friday last Prof. Humayun Kabir, Union Minister of Education, presided.

The meeting felt that for the natural growth of the rural institutes, it was essential to turn the existing Council for Rural Higher Education and the Board of Examinations and Faculties into an autonomous body. The National Council also suggested to the Government that the number of existing rural institutes was very small and in order to make an impact on the pattern of education and village community there should at least be one rural institute in each State.

The meeting was of the view that the Rural Institutes which had made a significant contribution to higher education must serve the surrounding villages and vitalise the village community. "Rural Institutes", the Direcrors said, "have not only enabled the students to understand rural problems better, but also enriched the quality of their education by providing vital learning experience".

No Fall In Education Standard

SAYS PANIKKAR

Mysore, Sept. 25

Sardar K. M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University, yesterday dismissed the complaint of fall in the standard of education as a "bogus cry of disgruntled old men, who did not know what was happening in the world".

He said, "The standard has not fallen and I will go a step forward and say that we are at a higher-level than at any other time, especially in scientific education".

Sri Panikkar stated that "just because the standard of English was not the same as before, one cannot come to the conclusion that the standard of education has come down as a whole". When there was a mass, popular and national demand for education, with millions of students seeking higher education, there are marginal cases of low standard. "I have no sense of despondency and despair about education", he added.

The Vice-Chancellor was presiding over the inaugural meeting of the Association of Post-Graduate Departments of Manasa Gangotri.

Of the fiftyfive milk supply projects which are to be set up by the end of the Third Plan period, thirty will be in the cooperative sector.

The State Governments have been requested to draw up a phased programme so that the departmental schemes draw milk mostly through cooperatives. By making the departmental schemes depend upon the cooperatives for milk supply, a definite link between the two can be established. It will be useful if in each of the centres where departmental schemes are run, primary milk supply societies are federated into a milk union and undertake the supply of milk to the scheme.

You Yawn At Your Own Peril!

You yawn in NEFA at your own peril.

The areas below 9,000 feet in the NEFA region is thoroughly uncongenial with leeches and snakes for company.

Jawans in the areas have a trying time chasing them away.

Leeches have a way of creeping under the collar, in the boot and on the bed.

Recently an army officer went through an experience of his life time. Tired, after a round of inspection, he allowed himself rest and a luxury of a yawn. Pat dropped a leech into his mouth and stuck to his throat. Doctor ejected the insect with difficulty with a glass of saline.

FILTERED WATER FOR ENTIRE CITY

CIVIC BODY'S SCHEME

Mysore, Sept. 30

Sri K. Siddiah, the outgoing President of the City Municipal Council, stated yesterday that a scheme to provide complete supply of filtered water to the city had been prepared, for which the State Government had promised assistance. At present only half the water supply is filtered.

The Civic Chief told a news conference that the Chief Minister had promised to advance loan to the Municipality for extending water supply to Manasagangotri-Varsity new campus-and newly started Regional College of Education at a cost of Rs. 3.25 lakhs.

He said that the Government had asked the Municipality to find its own additional income for meeting the cost of new schemes. By schemes like owning municipal stalls and vigorous collection of Octroi, he hoped to raise an additional revenue of Rs. 3 lakhs per year.

Sri Siddiah said that 3 sets of Municipal stalls, one at Statue Square and two at Dhanwantari Road, would be ready for occupation next month. Constructed at a cost of Rs. 13.5 lakhs the stalls are expected to yield a revenue of Rs. 2 lakhs by way of rent.

Referring to the scheme of construction of a Stadium, he said the site had been selected at Doddakere maidan and an estimate of Rs. 4.90 lakhs for the first phase of the stadium was under scrutiny.

The Civic Chief regretted that inspite of the Council's representation, the Central authorities had decided to shift the office of the Defenee Accounts from Mysore to Madras.

Sri Siddiah, who would be laying down the office on Oct. 4 said, although he was a member of the depressed class, he got hearty co-operation from the officials, the opposition party and the Press for which he thanked them all.

He is the first Harijan President of the 102-year-old Mysore City Municipal Council.

For the first time in the history of the co-operatives, the directors have been elected unanimously without a contest.

Sri Krishnarajendra Co-Operative Society made history yesterday when they decided to utilise the Kamaraj Plan. Out of the 26 contestants, 12 persons including the senior ones withdrew and the following 14 directors were elected unanimously:

Messrs. T. N. Subba Rao, K. Kariyanna, M.S. Ramalingu, M.B. Basavaraju, M. L. Padmanabha Jois, B.R. Naidu, B. Siddalingiah, M.N. Ramaswamy, K.R. Veerabhadrappa, R. Rangappa, M. L. Lingiah, M. V. Venkataraju, K. N. Govind Rao and L. Shankara Radhya.

KAMARAJ PLAN

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday denied that the Kamaraj Plan was devised to give him an opportunity to get rid of unwanted persons from places of power.

Since it was a good idea and possessed an inner vitality of its own the Kamaraj Plan caught the imagination and it was decided that it should be extended for the entire country.

NO REAL DEMOCRACY BUT ONLY A PHONEY ONE

PRESIDENT--

President Radhakrishnan stated yesterday "What we have in India today is not real democracy. but only a phoney democracy If we are true democrats which, I may say, we are not, there would not have been so much of discontent and ill-will".

The President speaking at Trivandrum said. it was essential that a true democrat should look upon democracy not merely as a political arrangement, but, as an ethical faith when they would not have any kind of nepotism, corruption and communal prejudice which have brought down the country to degradation.

He said that direct action and resort to violenee were inconsistent with true democracy. They were not loyal to the fundamental principles of democracy, to which they paid merelip service.

Dr. Radhakrishnan said that they had kept certain people as beyond the pale of civilisation and it was necessary they should be lifted up to equality -equality not merely in law and in the constitution, but to equality in every day life "We have not done it and we have suffered for it. If we do not learn from the past, we have to live the past over again".

The President said it was a phoney democracy they had. If they had a true democracy they must be in a position to respect man at man. But the fact nepotism and favouritism of helping people because they belong to a particular cast or community had been responsible for much of the discontent.

NEHRU'S CALL TO STUDENTS

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday called upon students to understand the changing world and equip themselves for shouldering future responsibilities.

Writ Plea On College Admission Allowed

Bangalore, Oct. 1

The Mysore High Court yesterday allowed a batch of 474 writ petitions relating to admissions to the engineering and medical colleges in the State.

Their Lordships Justice Hegde and Justice Ahmed Ali Khan held that the interviews conducted by the two selection committees one for admission to the engineering college and the other for medical college were vitiated.

The court, therefore, quashed the interviews impunged in these proceedings and directed the select committees to interview the petitioners afresh according to the directions given in the judgment.

The court upheld the Government order dated July 26, 1963 determining the 'backward classes' on the basis of poverty and occupation in order to satisfy the constitutional mandate.

During the academic year, as many as 474 writ petitions were filed by students of the Mysore University praying for a direction to the respective select committees to admit them. They also challenged the validity of the two Government orders.

Out of these 474 petitions, 272 related to admissions to engineering colleges and the rest to medical colleges.

PRESERVATION OF WILD LIFE

India has a tremendous range of physical and climatic conditions and vegetation. It has, naturally, a rich and varied fauna too.

Altogether, there are about 500 different species of mammals, 3,000 spices of birds and more than 30,000 known forms of insects. There are many varieties of fish, reptiles and amphibians, too.

In no country, perhaps, is there such variety of birds and animals as in India. But this beautiful and colourful heritage of ours is in danger of being lost. Some of the birds and animals are becoming rare; some have very nearly disappeared.

Among India's colourful fauna, there are some rare animals like the Indian lion and the one-horned rhino. An exclusive Indian animal is the black buck, which could be seen strutting proudly amidst its seraglio of graceful does. So are the spotted deer, blue bull, four-horned antelope and sloth bear.

The wild life is well distributed over the country. In the Himalayan region are found several kinds of goat and sheep, black and brown bear, snow leopard and panther. The tiger, panther, cheetah, sambur, hog deer, black buck and blue bull inhabit the Indo-Gangetic plain. In the Deccan region we can see the bison, sloth bear, sambur, spotted deer, elephant and tiger.

HOUSE SURGEONS ON STRIKE

60 house surgeons of the Karnatak Medical College Hospital in Hubli have gone on an indefinite strike from yesterday demanding enhancement of their stipend to Rs.150. At present, the senior house surgeons are getting Rs. 100 and the juniors Rs. 60 per month.

PAK AGGRESSION ON KASHMIR

Smt. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, leader of the Indian delegation told the U.N. General Assembly that the central issue in the Kashmir dispute was not one of self-determination but "Pakistani aggression committed in 1947 and 1948 which continues to this day."

She said if Pakistan really believed in the principle of self-determination, why did it invade the State in the first place?

The solicitude of Pakistan for self-determination of Kashmiris might have been better appreciated if Pakistan had practised democracy. "It is ironic that a Government that has denied the democratic rights of universal sufferage to its own people should advocate self-determination for a country which has had its general elections three times since independence.

MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE

Smt. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, leader of the Indian delegation charged Pakistan in the United Nations General Assembly with entering into a marriage of convenience with Red China "with the objective of keeping India militarily week in order that she may be unable to resist aggression".

She was replying to the speech earlier made by Mr. Bhutto, noted that Pakistan's fear about India's military building-up was shared only by Red China.

The Gorgeous Peacock

History records that Alexander the Great took with him two hundred Indian peacocks after his return to Greece from India. That was nearly 2,000 years ago. From Greece the birds spread over to the Near East, Europe, Africa and America.

Earlier, and since Alexander's days, the peacock has been one of India's pre-eminent bird species. Recently, it has been chosen as India's national bird. Andin a land, such as ours, of pageantry, spectacle and colour the gorgeous peacock fits in with the colourful pattern of our national life.

Among the rich wild life India abounds in, the peacock is one of the finest birds. "The gorgeous peacock is the glory of God", so says Kalidasa in one of his poems. Indeed, no bird can perhaps boast of such a combination of beauty and individual qualities. The colourful tail-coverts, the bright "peacock eyes" on feathers, the metallic-blue crest on the head and the many-coloured neck are so attractive. Its grace, too, is so aristocratic, its poise so artistic and its dance so attractive.

Give Up 'Ma Baap' Attitude

NEHRU TELLS OFFICIALS

Prime Minister Nehru has expressed that the administration, especially in rural areas, has to radically change its outlook, if the country has to make real progress.

He said the "Ma Baap" attitutde of the officials had to go and they should identify themselves with the masses, who in the ultimate govern the country. Therefore the people, especially their mass organisations like the panchayati raj and the community development should develop an attitude of self-reliance.

Sri Nehru said: "Unfortunately, today the aim of the average public workers is to get elected to Parliament or the State Assembly or the chairmanship of zilla parishad or sarpanch. This has vitiated public life. Little attention is paid to work done and the result achieved. It is the achievements that should put the object to the test"

BHILAI STEEL OUTPUT

DVC Dams Avert Flood

The Damodar Valley Corporation yesterday claimed that it had averted a catastrophic flood by intercepting through its dams huge sheets of water which rolled down the Barakar, the Damodar and the Konar rivers during the past few days.

Owing to heavy rains, all the rivers in the valley were in spate and nearly 2,66,000 cusecs of water-rolled down the rivers, which were intercepted by the DVC dams on Sept. 27 and 28. Had all the 2,66,000 cusecs of the upper regions and 3,000 cusecs of the lower regions flowed down the river, there would have been a catastrophic flood.

The Plan, he said, was aimed, at revitalising the Congress organisation as an instrument of service to the people. He said the pre-independence spirit of selfless service and sacrifice should be captured.

Sri Nehru expressed his sense of anguish at the lowering of standards of public morality in the country and called for people's co-operation in ridding society of such evils as bribery and corruption.

Big Rice crop

Asia is going to have another big rice crop this season, according to the U.S. Foreign Agricultural Service.

The outlook is for a harvest that is some what better than 1962-63's crop of 132 million tonnes of rice.

Rs. 100 Minimum Income Per Month

BY END OF FIFTH PLAN

Sri Shriman Narayan, member of the Planning Commission stated yesterday that a minimum income of Rs. 100 per month per family (per capita income of Rs. 20) and an assurance of some useful work for all those who want to work were the main objectives set for achievement during the Fourth and Fifth Plans.

He said that the planners had for the first time adopted the task of ensuring a minimum level of earning capacity for the people so that they could have a minimum standard of living. Even though a level of Rs. 100 income for a family of five at the end of 1975-76, would only be a modest target, it would be a difficult task to achieve. "It would be our earnest attempt to plan in such a fashion that no family in this country should earn less than Rs. 100 per month by the end of the Fifth Plan".

He also said that even in the Fourth Plan, there would be considerable emphasis for the achievement of minimum living standards for everyone.

India's Trade Ties With S. American Countries

MYSORE GOVERNORS' PLEA

Mysore, Oct. 5

Sri Jayachamaraj Wadiyar, Governor of Mysore, yesterday suggested the deputing of a high-power commission or a team of experts in trade and economic development to South American Countries to draw up an integrated plan to develop closer ties with those countries.

Mr. Wadiyar, who returned yesterday from a eight-week tour abroad, including the Latin American Countries, did not, however, minimise the importance of trade agreements with individual countries now being negotiated.

Talking to newsmen, he made particular mention of the Latin American countri's appreciations of India's position in regard to Chinese aggresson.

He also pointed out that there was great appreciation of India's Cultural contribution and there was also a real feeling that those countries should have cultural exchanges with India.

At the moment, he said, discussions were on for trade agreements between Brazil and India and between Argentina and India. He was also told that there was a possibility of some trade agreements being discussed between Peru and India.

Summing up, Mr. Wadiyar said that personally he felt it would be a very-good thing if our economic ties, are strengthened along with cultural ties."

Mr. Wadiyar made pointed mention of the fund of goodwill he found towards India in those countries and said that this had to be properly exploited to India's advantage. There was a lot of things for India to learn form those countries.

The exchanges of experts between South American countries and India would held the progress of all countries concerned.

Mr. Wadiyar also made mention of the anti-American (U.S.) feeling despite the fact that the United States helped these countries' development.

In Australia and New Zealand, the two other countries, he visited, Mr. Wadiyar said he found genuine appreciation of India's position against Chinese. This genuine feeling was much more visible in these countries than in United States, or even in Engalnd. These countries were anxious to help India's rapid economic growth.

He pointed out that in these countries there was the feeling that the political stability of entire Asia hinged on the safety of the territorial integrity of India.

Third Plan Not Benefited People

The Third Plan,now in its third year of implementation, has not so far produced adequate impact on the growth of economy, employment and improvement of living conditions.

The Planning Commission is understood to have conveyed this conclusion to the States while urging that their annual plans for 1964 65 should ensure the greatest possible impact on the development of the economy.

The Commission, which has practially completed its midterm appraisal of the Third Plan, is believed to have pointed to lags in agricultural production as one of the more important reasons for the slow growth of the economy.

The Commission has noted that large investments have been undertaken, but in several instant ces their benefits remain to be realised.

NO GENUINE DEMOCRACY WITHOUT FREE PRESS

--SAYS PANIKKAR

Mysore, Oct. 7

"Democracy, genuine democracy, can function, only if the Press is free" said Sardar K.M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University, here yesterday.

He was inaugurating the third Conference of the Mysore District Journalists at Co-operators' Home.

Sri Agaram Rangiah presided.

"Democracy can function even without opposition parties as such, but no democracy has functioned or will function in future without a free Press", Sardar Panikkar said.

He underlined that journalists had, therefore, greater responsibility, even what opposition leaders had to say had to be known only through the Press. True, democracy or the methods by which democracy had to be exercised might be through ballot boxes. Even for these ballot boxes, opinions and feeling had to be created by criticism and advice by journalists. Therefore, it was fundamentally important to have free Press for the success of democracy.

The Vice-Chancellor said what was important in raising the standard of journalism is the high moral standard and a code of ethics among the journalists themselves. "Ethical standards of Indian journalists are not in any way less than those in most advanced countries. In fact it may be said that as a result of circumstances the standards have been high especially among small newspapers".

He appealed to the journalists to maintain the high traditions of service, sacrifice and integrity maintaining at the same time the recent tradition of right to have decent porfessional standard.

About the role of th IndianPress in democracy, Sardar Panikkar said that with the dawn of independence, the requirements, obligations and attitude to public issues had changed. The Press as a whole, in the past, which had a bias in favour of countyr's freedom a thing more as a projetion of a strong public opiniou against the alien rule, was different today- Democracy could function in an atmosphere of criticism and the basic difference between an autocratic regime and a democracy was that the former first curbed the scope for all criticism, while in a democracy, every kind of opinion could be expressed. It was for the public to choose whether the pinion expressed was reasonable or not. The real function of the Press in a democracy was to keep alive this light of freedom, free approval to public issues and judging issues in their merits.

Earlier, Sri P. Gopalakrishnasetty welcomed the gathering. Sri Siddiah Puranik. Director of Information and Publicity stressed the importance of district newspapers. Sri Suryanarayana, Vice-President of State Journalists Association also spoke.

Avoid Government Ways

NEHRU TELLS SCIENCE INSTITUTIONS

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday advised the national laboratories and other scientific institutions in the country to "get out of the governmental way of doing things". The governmental way of doing things had a "numbing influence", he said.

He was inaugurating the 50th session of the Indian Science Congress at New Delhi.

He criticised the manner in which the Planning Commission had grown into "a huge organisation with all the departments of the Government almost duplicated there and each one sending papers to the others".

In creative work like science, "perhaps it is somewhat better to give opportunities of leadership to young people" than to follow the Government's example of giving too much credit to age and seniority, Sri Nehru said.

He also expressed India's determination to go ahead with the Bokaro steel plant, "shouldering the burden" of putting it up "in the main by ourselves".

President's Rule Demanded

Bangalore, Oct. 8

Sri S. Shivappa, leader of the PSP Opposition, yesterday demanded in the Assembly the resignation of the Mysore Ministry and President's rule for three months.

He was moving a No-Confidence motion against the Council of Ministers. "The people of the State expect a clean and honest Government", he said.

He demanded for a judicial inquiry into the execution of the Sharavathy project.

Revenue Minister Krishnappa told the Opposition not to resort to tabling no-confidence motions at the slightest provocation. The no-confidence motion was to be used only when it was absolutely necessary- If used indiscriminately it would lose value in a democracy.

Ten members participated in the five-hour discussion yesterday. The debate will continue in two sittings today also.

"Fascism is like violence-realisation of certain reactionary goals and reactionary objetives through violence, threats and vulgarity. Whenever there is Fascism, it has been excessively vulgar and indecent. Apparently, the objectives are said to be leftist but essentially they are reactionary."

RAIL DIVISION OFFICE WILL STAY IN CITY

RLY. MINISTER'S ASSURANCE

Mysore, Oct. 14

Union Railway Minister Dasappa gave a categorical assurance here yesterday that the head quarters of the Mysore Railway Division would not be shifted from Mysore city as was feared.

Replying to the civic address presented by the local Municipal Council, the Minister stated that if the Southern Railway zone was bifurcated, which issue was still under proposal stage, there was no fear of shifting the Mysore Railway Division from the city.

Smt. Soundaramma Venktesh, President, presented the civic address.

Referring to the plea for the Chamarajanagar-Satyamangalam rail line, Sri Dasappa said now that the work on the Bangalore-Salem line had been taken up, it was necessary to rethink of the Chamarajanagar - Satyamangalam line about its urgency. He, however, said although it was not possible for him to give immediately any hope for the scheme being taken up in the Third Plan, it could be taken up in the Fourth or Fifth Plan (laughter).

As regards the conversion of Mysore-Bangalore line into broad-guage, the Minister said the question of freight and new alignment had to be considered. Electrification of this line might also come up. An integrated scheme had therefore to be considered.

He assured the citizens that he would plead with the Defence Minister for the retention of the Defence Accounts office in the city, which was not decided to be shifted to Madras.

Sri Dassappa also promised to help in locating some industries in the city and also shifting of some Central offices from Delhi to Mysore city.

ADVICE TO CONG. WORKERS

Earlier in the morning, Sri Dasappa addressed the Congress workers in the City Congress office. Sri H. Kempe Gowda, President welcomed the gathering.

Sri Dasappa said it was very unfortunate that there was groupism and bickering in the Congress and it was high time that this dissention and abusing each other should end. They should all unite together and work for the strengthening of the organisation.

He also regretted that some senior Congressmen who were in power and who wholeheartedly supported the Kamaraj Plan were themselves now criticising the plan as a move to oust certain persons from power.

He enjoined the Congress workers to do their job with devotion and honesty.

Sri Dasappa said that he did not even dreamt that he would receive such a warm and affectionate welcome in his own office in the city.

The reception was held in the Congress office where Sri Dasappa's office was located when he practised as a lawyer.

DMK's ANTI-HINDI CAMPAIGN

Sri C. A. Annadurai, leader of the Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam and M.P., announced yesterday that the DMK would launch a 13-month struggle against the imposition of Hindi, commencing from Nov. 17 in Madras State and in Chittoor, Bangalore and Trivandrum.

House Surgeons To Go On Strike

Mysore, Oct. 14

54 house surgeons, serving in the combined hospitals of the Medical College, in Mysore, have decided to go on an indefinite strike from Oct. 18 if their demands were not conceded by the Government.

Messrs. Sundarajan and Narasingabhan Singh, President and Secretary of House Men's Association told newsmen that a memorandum demanding payment of stipends to all house surgeons, increasing the stipend from Rs. 100 to Rs. 150 and better residential accommodation, had been sent to the State Health Minister on Oct.9.

They said that the present anomalous position of few persons getting stipend although the duty of all house surgeons was the same should end. In Mysore, they pointed out, that out of 54 house surgeons, only 38 received stipend.

The present quarters provided for them, they said, was an old, ill-ventilated one, without bath, dining and kitchen facilities.

CONG. PRESIDENN'S VISIT TO CITY

Mysore, Oct. 14

Congress President Sanjiviah will address a public meeting on Oct. 16 at 6-30 p.m. in the Townhall compound.

The Congress President will also address the Congress workers of the City and the District on the same day at 3-30 p.m. in Townhall.

Land Reforms Very Slow

An official assessment of the progress of land reforms in the States has revealed that effective implementation is lacking and that the failure adds up to something considerable.

The survey has also expressed dissatisfaction over the transfers that have taken place in recent years with the sole object of defeating the aims of land legislation. In several States, including Mysore and Andhra, there was no provisions to prevent spurious transfers. States are urged to take necessary steps to ensure that the law on ceilings is not defeated.

Lack of proper records of tenancies in States is said to be the main reason for the slow progress in several land reform measures.

The Planning Commission, some time ago, had promised 50 per cent Central assistannce for any programme for preparing a record of tenancies but few States have taken advantage of this offer.

The survey also favours computation of rent payable to tenants,to landlords on a cash basis instead of in kind as at present. The system of paying rent by way of share in produce is difficult to enforce.

FIGHT AGAINST SPURIOUS DRUGS

The Government of Mysore was considering setting up a separate wing in the police department to put down trade in spurious drugs, stated Health Minister Alva in Bangalore.

Cycle Hire Cut In Rly. Station

Mysore, Oct. 15

Union Railway Minister Dasappa on Sunday instructed the Divisional Superintendent Sthanunathan "to straight away reduce the cycle fee from six nP. to three nP without further correspondence".

He took this decision when the Pressmen brought to his notice about the high rate charged at the railway station for keeping the cycles.

Sri Dassappa told the officials that the matter might look trival but it involved a human consideration, because "it is not men like me who use the cycle but the poor. I do not mind if the authorities charge two annas on every car parked. After all the fee levied on cycles was only to regulate traffic in the station premises".

He also acceded to the request that the city transport buses should be allowed inside the station yard.

The Minister agreed that the railway press notes on accidents should also be given at divisional level at the same time as they were released from Madras.

As regards the request for some railway underbridges in the city, the Minister said the Railway Ministry was prepared to construct any under or over bridges whenever state Governments wanted.

Sri Dasappa was accorded a reception by the members of the Journalists' Association.

Chou's Stunt

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's offer to come to Delhi for talks with Prime Minister Nehru is seen as a propaganda stunt and a crude attempt to subvert the Colombo proposals for a settlement of the India-China border issue.

An External Affairs Ministry statement pointed out that this was not the first time that Chou had made such an offer and said this hardly made any sense since it was evident that Heads of Government could not possible discuss anything without adequate preparations at lower levels.

Cut In Cabinet Size

Bangalore, Oct. 16

Congress President Sanjiviah yesterday made it clear that the ceiling of 20 fixed by the High Command for the size of ministries applied to all States.

Sri Sanjiviah, however, pointed out that in almost all States, except in Mysore and Maharashtra, the Cabinet size was comparatively small.

In Andhra, for instance the size was nine ministers and six deputy ministers. In the case of only U.P. the Parliamentary Board had made an exception and had raised the strength to 21.

To the query as to what was to happen in Mysore and Maharashtra Sri Sanjiviah said: "We have written to the Chief Ministers and let us see".

He added that no time limit had been fixed for effecting cut in Cabinet.

West Bengal, he remarked, had responded readily by pruning the Ministry from 34 to 16.

When his attention was drawn to the Maharashtra Chief Minister's statement that it was only a suggestion, he replied: "Now he will take it as a a directive."

Asked if the Mysore Cabinet with 15 ministers, ten deputy ministers and two parliamentary secretaries, was unwieldy, he said: "It is the desire of the Parliamentary Board that the strength (of cabinet) should be cut down to 20".

To the question whether he would discuss with the Mysore Chief Minister the size of the Ministry, Sri Sanjiviah replied: "When we meet we will naturally remind him of our letter in regard to the size of the Ministry."

Asked about the leadership squabbles, he said the Parliamentary Board had not ruled out leadership contests and "when there is contest naturally there is some sort of excitement. It certainly impaired unity to some extent. Now that the contests are over, we hope things will settle down."

He added: "We have, in fact, written to the Chief Ministers that when once they are elected as leaders they should behave as they are leaders of the entire party."

Modern Cooking Methods

PANIKKAR'S PLEA

Mysore, Oct. 23

Sardar K. M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of theMysore University, suggested here on Monday that the Central Food Technological Research Institute should have a section devoted to modern cooking and the utilisation of waste cooking without losing the food qualities.

Speaking on the occasion of the Institute Annual Day, Mr. Panikkar said that along with the food processing which was very essential to our country, they should develop the science of culinary art and utilisation.

He said: "We are traditionally wedded to certain types of cooking, very good, very tasty and very healthy. But we lose the natural value in the process of cooking. Unless the new foods are cooked in new ways and popular tastes developed you cannot create a healthy nation".

Mr. Panikkar, therefore, urged that along with the Food Institute, they should have a cooking college so that their new foods were properly cooked and made available to people who could appreciate the quality of processed food.

The speaker said that food problem was of great importance to India as it had to feed 460 million people at all times with the population increasing at the rate of 8 million a year, with no additional area for cultivation. So it was not merely a question of finding adequate amount of food but also the right quality of food which was necessary for the growth of the people. So food processing and food industry had a vital importance to India.

Paying a tribute to the Food Institute, Mr. Panikkar said that with the urgency that the nation felt with regard to its food problem and the international co-operation available for the development of food science, he hoped that the Institute had a great future, which would determine the quality of Indian manhood and womanhood by the food that they ate.

Dr. V. Subrahmanyam, Director, welcomed the gathering. Dr. A. Sreenivasan, Deputy Director proposed a vote of thanks.

GIVE UP NOMADIC LIFE

Nijalingapp 's Flea To Tribals

Mysore, Oct. 28

Chief Minister Nijalingappa yesterday called upon the tribal welfare workers to look upon their work of persuading the tribal people to give up their nomadic life and settle down in one place as their religious duty.

Inaugurating a three-day all-India Seminar on Tribal Welfare at the Townhall here, the Chief Minister said that about 6.5 crores of scheduled tribes in the country were leading a nomadic life in forests. In law there was equality for them but in practice it was not so. So long such a huge population remained backward, the country could not claim to have advanced.

Sri Nijalingappa pointed out to the meaningless tradition of the tribal peopel moving from one place to another and not live with the town people as it would anger theirGod and they would die. The Central and the State Governments would do everything to rehabilitate them by giving lands, bullocks and financial help. "What I want them to do is to come forward to take advantage to these and live like cilvilised people."

In her Presidential Address, Smt. Margatham Chandrashekar, the Union Deputy Minister for Home Affairs, said that the Government was determined to implement welfare schemes for tribal people by starting tribal blocks, co-operatives, drinking water wells, and schools. She pointed out the great responsibilities the welfare workers had to bear in making these tribal people useful citizens of the country.

She said that out of Rs. 20 crores and Rs. 50 crores in the First and Second Plan only 40 and 60 per cent of the allotted amount was spent. But in the Third Plan out of Rs.65 crores allotted nearly 80 per cent had been spent. So it had been decided to increase by 5 crores more during the plan period.

The Deputy Minister wondered why the reservation made for the scheduled castes and tribes in the various spheres was not being fully utilised. She wondered why inspite of the liberal educational incentives, tribal boys and girls were not coming up with distinction to occupy their rightful places.

Sri B.V. Iyengar, Secretary of the State Social Welfare Department welcomed the gathering. Sri Krishna, Director, proposed a vote of thanks.

Mangalore Port Rail Link

A major step in the speedy execution of the Mangalore port was taken yesterday when the Railway Minister, Sri H. C. Dasappa turned the first sod for the 15-mile Mangalore-Panambur port site rail link.

Sri Dasappa said that for the speedy development of the port, a mixed guage link between the railway station and the port had been sanctioned so that plant and equipment could be moved to the port site quickly.

The Railway Minister assured that the possibility of converting the 128-mile Hassan-Mangalore line to broad-gauge at a later date had been kept in view by the authorities when drawing up the plans.

The 128-mile link would transport about two million tons of iron ore per year from Tumkur, Chitradurga and other nearby areas to Mangalore port for export.

DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM

INDIA'S GOAL, SAYS AICC

The All-India Congress Committee, yesterday at Jaipur, resolved to build Democratic Socialism in India with sense of urgency.

All the members who participated in the discussion on democracy and socialism demanded a radical approach.

They also urged for speedy measures to reduce economic disparties and for the State taking over the key sectors of production and distribution.

The statement which the AICC approved sums up the Congress ieodlogy as democratic socialism based on "democracy, dignity of the individual and social justice". Its ingredients are material surplus without which a nation cannot become affluent, equal opportunity and a just share for every citizen in the fruits of labour, and elimination of privilege, disparities and exploitation.

It envisages the building of a modern apparatus of production through science and technology, extension of co-operatives in the field of small industry and trade, and planned economic development.

The statement also assigns a strategic and predominant role to the public sector. It calls for workers' participation in management in a substantial way. Stress is laid on completion of the entire programme of land reforms within the next two years.

At Bhubaneswar in Jan. next, the Congress expects to present to the nation its vision of the society based on democracy and socialism in a more precise form.

Congress President Sanjiviah said that the statement, together with amendments and other proposals that are being invited from PCCs and AICC members, would go before the Bhubaneswar Congress for final decision.

Sri Nehru defined socialism as "scientific thinking and action both in regard to production and distribution of wealth and laid stress on the development of science and technology without which India "will be nowhere in the fast-changing world".

He warned that if the process of ushering in socialism in India was not speeded up, the people might get impatient some years hence and discard peaceful methods of economic transformation. Sri Nehru made it plain that the solution of economic problems in the country brooked no delay. He said that the programme must be carried forward in a spirit of urgency. He wished to work in co-operation with all elements which sincerely desired to take up the country towards socialism. "This can be done by their joining the Congress or by adoption of some other means".

FARMS FIRST AND FACTORIES NEXT

INDIA'S NEW APPROACH

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday enunicated a new approach for development in which farms come first and factories next. He described agriculture as "the key and the base of progress".

Addressing the National Development Council, at Delhi, Sri Nehru warned the Chief Ministers that if they failed in agriculture which gave the wherewithal for progress, "then you fail inevitbly and consequently industrially also".

He said it is "rather distressing that the overall picture in many fields, more especially in the agricultural domain was not one of fast progress".

He called upon the Chief Ministers to take up the agricultural portfolio themselves. They should not look upon agriculture as a routine job but deal with it with a sense of mission and with energy, enthusiasm and ideas.

The Prime Minister deplored that even after 15 years of independence, the programme of land reforms had not been fully implemented for various reasons and various pressures. The programme must be completed, he said.

Union Agriculture Minister Swaran Singh urged for the formation of an agricultural production board at the Centre.

UNIVERSAL EDUCATION FAR AWAY

The constitutional directive of universal education for all children in the age group of 6-14 is unlikely to be fulfilled even by the end of the Fifth Plan.

Though there has been a tremendous expansion in elementary education since 1950-51 and some 63 million children will be in schools in 1965-66 as against the Third Plan target of 59 million, universal primary education will be impossible unless investment is stepped up and teachers trained on a mass scale.

States Ask For More Aid For Education

The State Governments have asked the Centre for more assistance for improving elementary education in the country.

This plea was made yesterday at the three-day conference of State Education Ministers at Delhi.

Inaugurating the conference, Prime Minister Nehru deprecated the tendency on the part of the States to effect economy at the expense of education. He said economy could be effected by putting up less expensive but more pleasing school buildings.

Sri Nehru said that education was "the most important part of our plans and that industry or agriculture which are so important for us wlll only grow adequately if there is the background of mass education".

He said that the Government wanted education to spread fast both quantitatively and qualitatively. Quantity minus quality was no good at all. Adequate opportunities should be created to train teachers, lack of which came in the way of educational expansion.

JAIL FOR CUTTING TREES

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday recommended life imprisonment for those who cut trees ruthlessly.

650 Killed In Jap Twin Disaster

The official death roll in Japan's double disaster--a mine explosion and a triple train crash-- has risen to 650 yesterday.

At Omula City in Western Japan, where an explosion ripped through the Mikawa coal mine, 452 miners were officially reported dead. It is feared that some of the 1,314 miners underground at the time of the explosion may still be trapped by cave-ins.

The Defence Research Laboratory at Kanpur is developing a device for heating soups without a fire.

This is an answer to the problem posed by frozen soups at high altitudes on India's northern borders where the jawans keep the vigil against the Chinese marauders.

No One-Room Quarters

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday called for a ban on construction of any one room quarters for low-salaried Government staff.

He told Government architects and engineers: "Never build one-room tenements, emergency or no emergency".

BIG PROJECT AID OUTSIDE PLAN

Sri Nijalingappa, Chief Minister of Mysore yesterday pleaded at the National Development Council that Central funds for the execution of huge irrigation and hydro-electric projects like Sharavathi should be routed outside the Plan ceiling.

Mysore's plea is stated to have been wholeheartedly supported by several other States.

The States even assured the Centre of returning the amount as soon as these projects, particularly irrigation ones, started paying dividends.

The Union Government is likely to examine the plea.

IRRIGATION BOARDS

The proposed irrigation boards, comprising State and Central Government representative, are likely to be vested with the power of fixing betterment levy and water rate for their respective projects.

This will enable the States concerned to collect the betterment levy and water rate from the project beneficiaries on a uniform basis.

Speedy Land Reforms

The National Development Council has called upon the States to complete the implementation of the land reforms programme before the end of the Third Plan.

A high-level committee was constituted for ensuring speedier implementation of land reforms.

The Council agreed to constitute at the national level an Agricultural Production Board for bringing about an integrated approach in matters of agricultural policy.

The Council asked the States to give the highest priority to this field. Stable and progressive agricultural economy, is felt, was the foundation even for the growth of the industry.

POLICE YIELD TO PEACEFUL SATYAGRAHIS

INCIDENT NEAR MYSORE CITY

Mysore, Nov. 12

What would have been a great tragedy resulting in bloodshed was averted by tactful handling by the police officers in a village nearby yesterday.

It is reported that the agricultural department of the State Government was trying for the past two years to acquire for seed farming a 60-acre grazing field in Chammanahalli, one mile from Bannur in Mysore District. Since there was considerable resistance to the move, the police help was sought.

Yesterday morning, a pose of armed reserve police was sent from Mysore to the spot and officers of the agricultural department started to take a tractor to the land.

Soon they were confronted by the entire village folks, about 250, including women and children.

They told the officials and the police that they would have to plough the land over their dead bodies. They were in no mood to need the police warning.

Police then used tear gas against the peaceful satyagrahis which, however, did not budge an inch.

Sensing the situation might take an ugly turn, Sri Malliah, Deputy Superintendent of Police, Nanjangud, asked his men to retire from the scene.

Imbibe Spirit Of Adventure

NEHRU'S CALL TO YOUTH

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday called upon the youth of the country to imbibe the spirit of adventure and scientific advance represented by spece travel and help break the petty barriers which divided the nation.

Inaugurating the eigth Inter-University Youth Festival at Delhi, Sri Nehru said that the bane of Indian life had been that people divided themselves into groups in the name of religion, caste, community or province and shut themselves behind mental enclosures. It was this "encaging of the mind" more than anything else which stood in the way of national progress.

The Prime Minister said "Unless we break the various shackles that bind us and impede our march on the road to progress, we as a nation shall lag behind and suffer for long time to come".

The Soviet Cosmonauts who were in the capital also attended the festival.

Sri Nehru asked the students to keep their minds open and alert. The young men and women of today were heading for extremely exciting times and they must prepare themselves for it. They must come out of the mental grooves in which the nation had lived for long and which their elders had failed to demolish.

Discard Over Schooling Age

State Education Ministers' conference at Delhi yesterday failed to reach agreement on an official draft which stipulated that the secondary stage of education should ultimately terminate at the age of 18.

While there was agreement that the school-leaving age should be 16 plus and that the three-year degree course was all right, serious differences developed over the proposal for a total 12-year schooling before a student entered the degree course.

Majority of them favoured the 12 year course, as recommended by the Mudaliar Commission, leaving it to States to work out the pattern most suitable to them.

INEQUITABLE MANAGEMENT OF LAND

There was inequitable management of land as between owners and tillers and this was one of the reasons holding up progress in agriculture, stated Sri Dey, Union Minister for Community Development.

He said that stepping up of agricultural production was a long process. Modern methods involved investment of large sums of money and the tiller was naturally averse to put forth more energy and invest money in an undertaking which would not fetch him proper reward.

That was the case more particularly in regard to absentee landlordism, where the lessee was committed to a fixed proportion of the yield and the landlord never bothered to invest more money on land, he added.

MYSORE VARSITY RESENTS GOVT. MOVE

NO CHANGE IN PUC SYLLABUS

Mysore, Nov. 15

The Academic Council of the Mysore University yesterday, rejected a proposal for modification of the courses of study for the pre-university classes with a view to bring into effect a uniform syllabus in Mysore and Karnatak Universities.

Several members objected to the subject being brought again, as the same had been thrown out by the joint Faculty of Arts and Science.

Vice-Chancellor, Sri Panikkar explained that the State Government was anxious to have a uniform pattern of study in PUC for the two universities. As such they asked him to place the subject before the Council for reconsideration. If the Council rejected it, the Government, he said, could use the 'visitorial powers' to give effect to its decision.

This remark touched off angry protests from members.

Sri Siddaveerappa said if this was the Government's attitude, it was reprehensible and it should be condemned.

Sri Shivappa charged the Government with tresspassing in the university's domain.

The Council approved in principle the recommendation of the University Grants Commission for allowing the military personnel in armed forces to appear for university examinations in private in arts subjects, as an emergency measure.

The Council gave its approval for continuance of all the posts sanctioned to the post-graduate departments by the UGC till the end of the Third Plan period.

The Vice-Chancellor said that while the UGC's assistance for the Plan period was a committed one, continuance of aid on a permanent basis had been assured.

The Council approved the proposal for the introduction of Kannada as one of the special subjects under the method of teaching in R. V. Teachers' College, Bangalore.

Deterrent Laws To End Graft

C.M.'s PLEA

Mysore, Nov. 18

Chief Minister Nijalingappa stated here on Saturday that existing laws should be modified so that corrupt people could be dealt severely.

He was speaking at a function held at the Townhall by the District Co-operative Central Bank, when it presented a cheque for Rs. 32,000 to the Chief Minister for the National Defence Fund.

The Chief Minister said that there were corrupt men in the co-operatives but on this score, it was meaningless to discourage the growth of co-operatives. For want of properly-trained personnel, some co-operatives were not properly maintained. Therefore, five colleges had been started in the State to train more personnel for effective auditing of accounts.

Sri Nijalingappa appealed to the banks to extend credit facilities to ryots to help them raise production. Agricultural indebtedness in the country was to the tune of Rs. 900 crores, Mysore's share being Rs. 50 crores.

It was the duty of the State to provide timely aid to the ryots and lessen their burden. This absence naturally compelled the farmers to seek the help of money-lenders. In this, the banks could come to their aid and see that the ryots were removed from the clutches of the money-lenders.

Sri Hejige Linganna, President of the Bank presented the cheque.

Sri K. Puttaswamy, Minister for Municipal Administration presided.

Sri B.C.Lingiah proposed a vote of thanks.

Rs. 12-Crore Shortfall In Mysore Plan Resources

Bangalore, Nov. 21

Finance Minister Jatti yesterday conceded that the State had failed to mop up the internal resources for the implementation of the Plan.

Mysore will face a shortfall of Rs. 12.5 crores for Plan schemes by the end of the Third Plan period.

According to the commitment of the Government, it had to raise Rs. 8.5 crores every year for five years but now it would be able to pool up only Rs. 30 crores by the end of the Third Plan, thus leaving a shortfall of Rs. 12.5 crores.

Sri Jatti said that on no account the size of the State Plan should be cut. Otherwise it would affect the State's economy in particular and the nation in general.

The Finance Minister who left for Delhi will plead with the Centre and the Planning Commission to give the State additional money for the speedy execution of the Sharavathy, Project and the minor irrigation schemes, outside the fold of the Third Plan.

Project-Oriented Research Programme

IN FOOD INSTITUTE

Mysore, Nov. 21

Dr. H.A.B. Parpia, the new Director of the Central Food Technological Research Institute, gave a categorical assurance to the younger scientists working in the Institute that every possible opportunity would be given to them and their achievements would be rewarded.

Speaking at a welcome party arranged in his honour by the members of the Institute, on Tuesday, Dr. Parpia said that for food research the resources were limited and they were spending only one tenth of a nayapaisa per capita of population. It was therefore, paramount to take a realistic view of actual user requirements and means in order to husband available resources.

He said the Institute would shortly sponsor a project-oriented research programme to determine and identify problems of industry. An industrial research and consultancy service division would also be started. Further the Institute would re-orientate its programme of work so as to engage itself on short-term work to develop know-how or modify existing processes and develop new technology to replace outmoded processes.

Prime Minister Nehru said the dastardly assassination of President Kennedy had tragically ended in the prime of life a distinguished and noble career "which meant so much not only to the people of the United States but to the people of the World. The world is a lot poorer by this sudden and tragic end of a great man and a great distinguished statesman".

Sri C. Rajagopalachari said: "World peace has received a mortal wound in the assassination of President Kennedy".

Acharya Vinoba Bhave said the assassination of Kennedy was "assassination of humanity", because he was devoted to the cause of world peace.

Kennedy Killer Shot Dead

24-year-old Lee Harvey Oswald, suspected killer of President Kennedy, was yesterday shot dead in Dallas.

The attack took place within the heavily guarded police headquarters just as the suspected killer was being transferred from the municipal jail to county Dallas prison, a few hundred yards away from the place where the President was assassinated. Oswald was wounded in the side and stomach in the basement of the Dallas police headquarters and he died two hours later in the hospital.

Jack Ruby, a owner of a Dallas night club, who believed to have shot dead Oswald, had been arrested.

Police had received several anonymous telephone calls one of which said that the people of Dallas City planned to shoot Oswald down.

Oswald and his guards went straight down to the basement in the lift and Oswald appeared as a black figure at a small door in the glare of television lights which made him blink. Suddenly, from right behind a group of detectives and newspapermen, a man shot out, knees bent, pressed his revolver against Oswald's stomach and fired. Immediately Oswald collapsed.

Killed Oswald For The Sake Of Jackie

—SAYS RUBY

Jack Ruby, who killed President Kennedy's assassin Oswald, is reported to have told the police, "I didn't want to be a hero, I did it for Jacqueline Kennedy".

Ruby's sister said that her brother "absolutely worshipped" the dead President. "He loved the man and when he heard of the killing he was physical'ly sick in his stomack. He has been brooding about it all week-end".

She felt she might have involuntarily given her brother the idea of killing Oswald because she had told him she thought that Communists might try to kill Oswald to stop him from talking.

A musician employed by Ruby at one of his two night clubs said Ruby had wanted to avenge the dead President.

Tom Howard, lawyer for Ruby, said that when he talked with him in his cell Ruby was on the verge of tears. He thought his client had momentarily lost his reason following President Kennedy's death.

Jack Ruby has received a flow of congrtulatory telegrams and offers of money.

"He ought to get a medal", one hysterical bystander cried. One unidentified woman in Albani, after viewing the television, rang the local newspaper and said "they ought to give who ever did it, the Congressional medal of honour".

Millions of Americans watched on Sunday in their televesion sets Oswald being shot at point-blank range, just at the entrance of the city police headquarters in Dallas.

A COVER UP OF REAL KILLERS

Moscow Radio yesterday claimed that the killing of Oswald was an attempt to cover up the real motive behind President Kennedy's assassination.

Valentin Zorin, a top Moscow radio commentator said the shooting of Oswald was intended to conceal the truth. The President's assassination, he said, was not the work of one man but was inspired by a group of people.

The murderers of President John Kennedy were trying to cover up their traces, said the Tass news agency.

SPECIAL LECTURE

Mysore, Nov. 26

Dr. S.P. Adinarayan of Annamalai University will speak on "Psychology of Prejudice" tomorrow and the next day at 5-30 p.m. in the Junior B.A. Hall of the Maharaja's College.

KENNEDY LAID TO REST

WORLD LEADERS JOIN FUNERAL PROCESSION

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th President of the United States, was laid to rest at Arlington national cemetery in Washington yesterday with full military honours.

Over hundred Kings, Presidents, Prime Ministers and other foreign dignitaries who had come from all parts of the world joined in their tributes and shared their grief with thousands of Americans who wept as President Kennedy's remains were taken from the White House to the cemetery.

The burial spot on the sloping hill side is the final resting place of soldiers and statesmen.

24 hours before the burial, Americans in thousands streamed into the Capital Rotunda to file past the martyred Head of State.

The most touching scene was witnessed when Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy joined the public and paid her respect as a private mourner.

A horse-drawn gun carriage carrying President Kennedy's body earlier set out from the Hall of Congress for his final resting place in the Arlington cemetery.

The flag-draped coffin was gently removed by pall-bearers from the catafalque in the Capital Rotunda.

To the muffled beat of drums the cartege moved and six grey horses pulled the black gun carriage. Prancing behind came a riderless brown horse, the ancient military symbol of a fallen warrior. In the stirrups there were reveresed cavalry boots, a sign of mourning and a sword hung from the empty saddle.

Washington was virtually silent except for a single bell tolling at 10-second intervals from the Cathedral and the sound of marching feet.

Following an hour long pontifical requiem mass, celebrated by Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, the procession moved to the cemetery.

At 12-30 a.m. (IST) the late Kennedy's coffin was taken from the gun carriage and placed in a tomb. The flag covering the body of the late President during the funeral ceremonies was handed over to Mrs. Kennedy.

Jet planes in groups of three screamed over-head as Kennedy's body was lowered into the tomb.

India's Homage To Kennedy

India yesterday paid homage to the assassinated U.S. President Kennedy.

Both the houses of Parliament stood in silent homage for some time, after brief statements made by the leaders and adjourned without transacting any business.

Prime Minister Nehru in the Lok Sabha paying tributes to Kennedy described the assassination as a "crime against humanity".

He said 'we sorrow for this, as indeed we must, but perhaps he has served the causes he cherished in his death even as he laboured for them in his life. Let us draw inspiration from this fragrant memory and pay homage to it.

"A man has been struck down in the prime of his youth and achievement—a man of vision who sought to serve his own people as well as the larger causes.

"President Kennedy has revived among his people ideas enshrined in the American Constitution and sought to apply them to the problems of today. He endeavoured, not without success, to work for the removal of tension"

Sri Nehru referred to the liberal policies President Kennedy was pursuing in the United States as well as in the international sphere and said "he devoted himself to the removal of injustice and inequality among his own people. He laboured for civil liberty and worked so that the Negroes may have equal freedom and opportunity without distinction of race or colour. The memory of a great predecessor, Abraham Lincoln was revived and in the confusion and fluctuations of the present-day world, came a vision of the self-evident truth that all men are created equal and have certain inalienable rights. Till these are fully achieved the vision of the founders of the American Republic will not be realised in its completeness.

"In the wide world outside, he threw his great energy and weight in favour of the development of the under-developed countries so that people everywhere can have the advantage of modern science and technology.

"To his high office, he brought lusture and grace and peoples in distant lands of the world looked upon him with hope and affection".

In the Rajya Sabha, the Chairman Dr. Zakir Hussain paying tributes said it is an irony that the late President should have fallen to an assassin's bullets while he was on a tour to gain support for the legislation intended to assure the civil liberties of the Negroes.

No New Taxes For 2 More Years

C.M.'s ASSURANCE

Bangalore, Nov. 27

Chief Minister Nijalingappa assured yesterday that the Government will not impose any new taxes in the next two years of the remaining Third Plan period.

He said the Government which was expected to raise Rs. 42 crores internally, will be able to raise only Rs. 30 crores during the period. By effecting economies and stepping up the dues collection drive, the Government hope to increase its sources by another Rs. 2 crores.

The State Government, he said, has impressed on the Centre the urgent need to come to its aid to fulfil the plan target.

The Chief Minister stated the State had pressed for an outlay of Rs. 61 crores for 64-65 and had asked for Rs. 22 crores for the Sharavathy project, Rs. 8 crores for minor irrigation works and substantial aid for the new electric factory.

FULL PROBE ORDERED

President Johnson has ordered a prompt and full inquiry into all the circumstance of the assassination of President Kennedy and the murder of Lee Oswald, the accused assassin of the President.

The Justice Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been charged with the task.

Slow Progress In Third Plan

The Planning Commission has admitted shat the first half of the Third Plan has been a period of "slow economic growth" and there may be shortfalls in several fields at the end of Plan unless the present tempo of work is greatly increased.

The appraisal said in terms of national income growth, the achievement in the first two years of the Plan has been less than anticipated at its beginning of the Plan. Between 1961 and 1963, the growth of annual income is estimated to have been about 2.5 per cent as compared to the rate over five per cent envisaged.

The Commission noted with "concern the relative setback in agricultural output, especially in regard to foodgrains, but is reasonably hopeful that with the special efforts being made to increase agricultural productivity and with favourable monsoons, there could be a sizable increase."

The performance of the industrial sector is more encouraging though it has not been satisfactory in some respects. Production increased by 6.5 per cent and 8 per cent respectively in the first two years of the Plan. But it is clear that these increases are not in consonance with the rise of something like 11 per cent per annum anticipated in the Plan.

Kennedy's Policies To Be Continued

SAYS PRESIDENT JOHNSON

President Johnson of U.S. yesterday assured the world that he would continue Kennedy's policies.

In a cable to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, the new U. S. President has assured America's continued dedication to the pursuit of peaceful solutions to world problems. He said he would keep up the momentum of Mr.Kenndy's efforts to lower east-west tension and diffuse the peril of nuclear war.

In a meassage to the U.S. representative in the United Nations, Mr. Adlai Stevenson, the President has instructed him to continue to seek international co-operation in the outer-space.

CONTROL OVER PRIVATE BANKS

Non-banking companies or institutions carrying on business allied to banking will come under the jurisdiction of the Reserve Bank under an amendment Bill to the Reserve Bank Act, introduced in the Lok Sabha yesterday.

The Bill will also empower the Reserve Bank to remove a person associated with a banking company whether or not that person had been found to have contravened the provision of any law.

U.S. Pledge To India

U. S. President Lyndon Johnson has assured President Radhakrishnan that he "participated in and fully endorsed President Kennedy's statesman-like policy of supporting India's freedom, security and growth as a nation. We shall continue to do so".

This is in reply to a condolence message sent by Dr. Radhakrishnan on the assassination of Mr. Kennedy.

Control On Gold Ornaments

Union Finance Minister Krishnamachari yesterday introduced in the Lok Sabha Gold Control Bill which seeks powers to fix a limit on ornaments held by an individual.

Children's Meet In City

Mysore, Nov. 28

The 16th session of the Karnataka Children's Conference, organised by Makkala Koota-first of its kind in the City-was inaugurated this morning at the Exhibition Buildings, by Srikanta Datta, son of the Governor of Mysore.

More than 1,000 children from all over Karnataka are participating in the three-day-conference.

Smt. Leela Anjanappa, Chairman of the Reception Committee, welcomed the gathering.

Messages received from the President, the Prime Minister, the Governor and others were read by Smt. Sheela.

T.T. Premanath, son of Sowcar T. Thimmappa, presented an ivory casket to Srikanta Datta.

14-year-old Chanchala, the child-President of the Conference also welcomed the gathering which included Anil Kumar who recently flew in the baloon at Bangalore.

Srikanta Datta in his inaugural address said that such a gathering of children would teach them discipline, unity, courage, physical strength and intelligence.

Smt. Gayathri Devi, daughter of the Governor releaseing the souvenir stressed the need for encouraging children to write books from the primary stage.

Smt. Tripurasundarammani, wife of the Governor, in her Presidential address said that the future citizens should be imbibed with a sense of cleanliness, godliness and a respect for the teachers from the early stages. This was the responsibility of the parents, more so of the mother. Hence the mother should be an example to the children. If the parents were not cultured and educated it was not possible to mend their children. So if children join "Makkala Koota" they could mingle with others and become good citizens. So it was necessary, she said, that 'Makkala Kootas' should be started throughout the State.

Earlier, the child-President Kumari Chanchala was taken in procession in the City accompanied by more than 1000 children.

Peace Abroad, Civil Rights At Home

SAYS PRESIDENT JOHNSON

The new U.S. President Johnson yesterday renewed his administration's dedication to the policies of the late President Kennedy both at home and abroad.

"This nation will keep its commitments from South Vietnam to West Berlin" and continue the "unceasing search for peace", he declared in the joint session of Congress.

The President called for the "earliest possible passage" of the Civil Rights Bill for which Kennedy fought. "We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights." "We have talked for hundred years or more. It is time now to write the next chapter and write it in books of law," he said.

He added that no memorial could more eloquently honour the memory of President Kennedy than the earliest possible passage of the Civil Rights Bill for which he fought. "I urge you again to enact civil rights law so that we can move forward to eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based on race or colour. There could be no greater source of strength to this nation both at home and abroad".

Mr. Johnson said "We will be unceasing in search for peace, resourceful in our pursuit of areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause".

President Johnson pledged that his administration would "carry on the fight against poverty and misery, ignorance and disease, in other lands and in our own".

Prime Minister Nehru told the Lok Sabha yesterday that the process of gradual "erosion" of Article 370 of the constitution relating to certain special provisions in regard to Jammu and Kashmir, was going on and fresh steps were being taken in the next month or two in that direction.

He ruled out any initiative by the Central Government for repelling the Article and said such initiative should come from the people of Kashmir.

The Prime Minister declared that there was no doubt that Kashmir was "fully integrated" with the Indian Union. The fact that there might be some special matter pertaining to the State did not come in the way of integration at all.

Earlier the Minister of State for Home Affairs Sri Hajarnavis told the House that elections to Parliament from Jammu and Kashmir would be held after the emergency.

Self-Sufficiency In Indian Railways

Mysore, Nov. 29

Sri V. K. Stanunathan, Divisional Superintendent, Southern Railways, Mysore, addressing the Rotarians at the dinner meeting held last night at the Sports Club, spoke on 'Our Railways'.

Rotarian-President Vasudeva Murthy was in the chair.

Sri Stanunathan said that the Indian Railways was the fourth biggest in the world and second in the management of one central agency. He said that 5,000 passenger trains and 4,000 goods trains were run every day, carrying about 34 lakhs passengers per day.

In this enormous task of carrying millions of passengers, there might be few accidents here and there but on this the public should not judge that the Indian Railways were not safe for travelling.

The speaker said that during the last 15 years the Indian Railways had achieved the distinction of becoming self-sufficient in coaches, locomotives and other equipments, for which 92 per cent of the indigenous materials were used.

He said that the slow progress in the taking up of new lines was due to the enormous cost. He said that for the metre gauge it would cost Rs. 5 to 6 lakhs per mile where as for broad gauge it would cost Rs. 11 lakhs per mile.

Referring to the ticketless travelling and the pilferage and destruction of railway property, he said, the rotarians could help in educating the public to desist from this anti-social and anti-national activities.

Rotarian Nayyar proposed a vote of thanks.

Panikkar's Advice To Freemasonry

Mysore, Dec. 3

The second anniversary of the Grand Lodge of India was celebrated here on Sunday at the Sports Club.

Sri T. G. Srinivasa Iyengar welcomed the gathering.

Sri J. B. Kumararadhya, President of the Mysore Masonic Lodge explained the aims of Freemasonry.

Sardar K.M. Panikkar, Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University, as the chief guest, speaking said that when revolutionary, social and economic changes were taking place in the country, causing diverse misunderstandings among the people, social organisations like the Masonic Lodge had a greater role to play in forging unity among the people.

He said that if the Indian Masonic Lodge had to further the principles of Masonry, it had to shed the British traditions which were marked by snobbery. They sported an attitude of aristocracy while claiming equality and fraternity.

Sri Panikkar said that now India was free, the Indian Lodge had to be reshaped on Indian traditions. He was not at all proud of the traditions of the Indian Masonry.

He recalled the threat made to Sri C.Rajagopalachari by the Lodge authorities that he would be dismembered from the organisation when he tried to picket liquor shops.

Dr. M. N. Mahadevan who presided, however, denied that the Indian Masonic Lodge was following British traditions. It was a free and democratic organisation which had reoriented its activities to the demands of a changing conditions.

Sri T.A.S. Rajan, Secretary, proposed a vote of thanks.

Govt. To Buy Paddy

To Check Price Rise

The Lok Sabha was told by Deputy Food Minister Thomas that the Government had decided not only to step up procurement of rice, but also to launch a new system of paddy purchase wherever procurement of rice was not being done and growers were ready to sell.

He said that State Governments had been instructed to open paddy purchase centres.

The Deputy Minister said crop prospects were good throughout the country and the Government was keen that this favourable factor should be fully utilised. The Government, he said, was determined to gain a better control over the situation in regard to prices of foodgrains not only in the next year but also in any unfavourable year hereafter.

The decision to purchase paddy on a large scale was part of the scheme.

The Government intended to build buffer stocks of four million tons of wheat and two million tons of rice.

Sri Thomas said that though for the most part, the traders had generally co-operated with the Government, there was no doubt that in certain parts "they are exploiting the present difficulties of both the consumer and the Government to push up prices". To some extent success of such traders had been facilitated by the weakness in our system in the absence of adequate inspection and checking staff. Steps had been taken to remove these weaknesses and the Central Government might assist the States financially to plug the loopholes which might be exploited by unscrupulous elements in the trade.

FAIR ATTITUDE TO PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

H.V.R. IYENGAR'S PLEA

Mysore, Dec. 7

Sri H. V. R. Iyengar, former Governor of the Reserve Bank of India addressing the annual Convocation of the Mysore University, here this morning at the Crawford Hall, declared "that if we are to get out of the morass of poverty we have to catch up with the west and come to terms with the new world of science and technology."

He said there was still too great a tendency in our country for people to regard Government as something quite outside themselves, which could be criticised for all their ills and misfortunes. This tendency was unfortunate and affected the character of the effort that was to be put forth. What was lacking in the country today was the feeling of enthusiasm, a feeling that one was taking part in a tremendous adventure, a feeling that, irrespective of one's own personal prospects one had to really put forth one's best efforts in the interests of the country.

Referring to the economic growth, Sri Iyengar said that we are aggravating our difficulties by making certain avoidable mistakes. Even within the limitations that our historical situation has imposed on us, we could make some what more rapid progress if we were less ridden by dogma and had a greater sense of economic reality.

He said that the industrial progress depended on a sense of enterprise—on what is known as entreprenеurial ability and the ability to take risks. It was in the interest of the country that this ability was utilised and, in fact, given full scope. In our country, unfortunately, private enterprise had a stigma attached to it. There was among our policy makers a sub-conscious hostility to private enterprise which was rooted neither in well grounded economic theory nor in good practical sense. If the authorities adopted a fairer attitude to the private enterprise a greater rate of growth could be achieved.

Another serious inhibiting fact which was capable of correction was the state of our administration. There was nothing that gave greater fillip to the industrial progress and consequently to greater job. opportunities than a clean and efficient administration.

The Speaker here referred to Mysore and said at his time-when he graduated in 1922-the administration was easily outstanding in the whole of India. But today the administration of Mysore was not regarded as being pre-eminent in India. It was a question for thought as to why an administration which was so pre-eminent in the past should have lost its momentum. So it was necessary that they should analyse the situation from time to time and examine what remedies are necessary and possible. For these were not points of merely political importance and they had a vital bearing on whole process of economic growth.

CEILING ON HIGH SALARIES

Bangalore, Dec. 7

Finance Minister Jatti yesterday rejected in the Council a private resolution seeking to limit the salaries of Government officials at Rs. 800 a month so that the deficit for the implementation of the Third Plan could be met. The proposal would help none, he said.

Sri Jatti pointed out that if the resolutian was accepted, the saving to the State exchequer would be only to the order of Rs. 3.5 lakhs per annum. If this had to be distributed among the 1.5 lakh Government servants, each one would not get more than 50 naye paise per month.

The Minister said that in the basic spheres of transport, power, coal and steel, they were no longer experiensing the same kind of shortage as disturbed them in the early years of the Third Plan.

Unfortunately, he said, the position in regard to agricultural production had not been satisfactory. CHANGE IN MEDIUM MUST BE GRADUAL Union Education Minister Chagla stated yesterday that the change-over to regional languages of media of instruction in universities must be gradual and not brought about in a hurry.

He said that while it was inevitable that regional languages would utlimately become the media of instruction in schools and colleges, the change-over should be such as not to lead to disintegration and disunity of the country. Each university should decide the pace of transition to regional languages but every possible precaution should be taken not to lower the standards.

SOARING FOOD PRICES

In the Rajya Sabha Minister Thomas stated that the rise of foodgrain prices and the high cost of production were due to the increased purchasing power. He also opined that the increasing population was another reason.

He said that with all this, the farmer was not getting a remunerative price. The price should be increased. But then there was a limit to price support as India was a country in which about 70 per cent of the population was dependent on agriculture. Any price support would mean that the rest of 30 per cent of the population would have to share the burden.

Human Rights Day

To commemorate the 15th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, today, the Indian Posts and Telegraph Department has issued a special stamp of the denomination of 15 np.

Prime Minister Nehru in a message said.

"It is a day of remembrance, thanksgiving and dedication: remembrance of those who gave their all so that others may live in freedom; thanksgiving for the progress achieved in the emancipation of millions from foreign subjection and exploitation and dedication to continue the struggle until all mankind is freed from "fear and want". The Human Rights Day this year is invested with special poignancy in the context of the martyrdom of John F. Kennedy, the great President of the United States of America.

"Probably the most impressive fact of modern life is the breath taking pace of development of science and technology. But all this progress is meaningful only if it leads to the general welfare of humanity and secures to each individual the fullest opportunities for development according to his genius, This is possible only if his rights and role in society are properly understood, protected and promoted.

"If oppression, conflict and wars have darkened the pages of history, it is primarily because of 'man's inhumanity to man', because of disregard of and contempt for the rights and dignity of others. In order to banish forever these evil forces which are a blot upon civilisation and which now threaten to wipe it out altogether, it is necessary to remove all manifestations of racial arrogance, political domination and economic injustice and abuse".

Sardar Panikkar, who was 69, leaves his wife, four daughters and a son, Sri Madhusudan Panikkar, an officer in the Planning Commission, Delhi.

The Sardar took over as the Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University on July 1, this year, on a three-year contract.

FATHERLY DISCOURSES

Vice - President Zakir Hussain said: "He was my teacher during my university days when I had the privilege of sitting at his feet and learning a lot from fatherly discourses. While the country has lost one of the greatest educationists and ablest administrators, I mourn in his death the loss of a respected elder".

NO EQUAL LIKE HIM

Mysore Chief Minister Nijalingappa said: "The passing away of Sardar Panikkar had given a rude shock to all of us. He was a scholar, a historian, an intellectual, an educationist and a student of politics. Just when he was trying to effect many changes in the Mysore University administration and give it a better shape, we have lost him. An equal like him with so many attributes as a scholar and stature is hard to find".

MEMOIR

Kavalam Madhava Panikkar was born on June 3, 1895 in Kavalam village in Ambalapuzha taluk. He had education in Trivandrum, Madras and Oxford.

He was the editor of Swarjya when it was conducted by late T. Prakasam and later of the Hindustan Times, Delhi.

Will Cross the Barrier in 10 Years

TTK's ASSURANCE

Union Finance Minister Krishnamachari told the Lok Sabha yesterday that within the next ten years the country would cross the barrier on the economic front.

He declared: "Certainly, by the end of the Fourth Plan, we will be able to see that no person who is decrepit or destitute will have to starve. No person shall remain uneducated".

The Minister told those who had advocated the scrapping of the Plan that "this planning, good, bad or indifferent, is something that has come to stay. It is a tiger–if you get off you will be eaten up. If we follow advice from the right or left or the hesitant centre, then we are done for. We do not propose to disembark from the tiger at all. We will ride it and we will reach our goal, God willing".

Sri Krishnamachari said that the effort of Parliament should be to see that the Plan moved forward It was a national plan for the advancement of the people of India. Those who said it was not a national plan did not bei ng to the nation They were perhaps refugees from some other country.

He admitted many of the shortfalls in the plan. There had not been the rapid advance in agriculture and allied fields that had been envisaged, growth of industry had been slower than expectations. But that should not lead any one to take an isolated view of the period under review. If one watched carefully, one would see its prouting.

RS. 8 LAKHS FOR IRRIGATION WELLS

Mysore, Dec. 12

With a view to increase minor irrigation facilities and consequently the food production, the Government of Mysore have allotted an additional sum of Rs. 8 lakhs to Mysore Division.

This additional allotment is meant to finance the construction of about 350 fresh irrigation wells in Mysore Division. Although the estimated number of fresh wells is about 350, it is possible that this amount can be utilised for financing a larger number of wells in view of the fact that only the first instalment is to be paid before the close of the financial year. Accordingly it is expected that about 420 fresh wells can be taken up between now and the end of March 64. The present allotment of Rs. 8 lakhs for construction of fresh irrigation wells is in addition to Rs. 14 lakhs allotted to the districts of Mysore Division in April. 1963 for completing the incomplete well works. In areas where the seasonal conditions have not been too favourable, permission has been accorded to utilise upto 50 per cent of the alloted amount for the Taluk towards sanction of sresh wells.

NEHRU DISTRESSED OVER ABYSMAL POVERTY

Prime Minister Nehru admitted in the Lok Sabha that although a great majority of the population had bettered itself during planned development, yet "a goodly number of people" had not profitted by planning.

He expressed distress at their "abysmal poverty" and said "I think of these very poor countrymen of ours and do something to improve their lot as quickly as we can".

Sri Nehru stoutly defended planning and planned development and said as the result of which, the country had succeeded largely in ending the economic stagnation from which it had suffered.

He appealed to the members of the House not to approach the stupendous task before the country with a frustrated mind but with confidence and strength and belief in our people.

Rearing Crocodiles And Pythons

MAHARAJA's PLEA

Mysore, Dec. 13

The Indian Board for WildLife, which concluded its three-day session here yesterday, has recommended that the wild life sanctuaries in Bandipur in Mysore and Mudumalai in Madras be developed into national parks by the respective State Governments.

It suggested starting of training courses in wild life management and ecology at the Forest Research Institute at Dehra Dun.

The board suggested that shooting of wild animals, from vehicles, particularly at night, should be prohibited.

On export of wild animals, the board felt that export of such animals nearing extinction, should not be allowed. On a long term basis, separate farms should be set up for breeding these animals which had an export market.

The chairman, Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar suggested the rearing, under artificial conditions, of animals like pythons and crocodiles. The skins of these animals were in great demand abroad and it was the intention of the board not to disrupt the trade. But it was also necessary to preserve the rare vanishing species.

The board recommended that steps should be taken to stop cropping and shooting of migratory birds. It was stated that thousands of birds were coming to India every year but their number was declining due to indiscriminate cropping and shooting.

It also suggested that in State where the number of tigers were declining, a careful watch should be kept on shooting and protection should be given to them wherever necessary.

JATTI WARNS OF FINANCIAL CRISIS

Mysore, Dec. 16

Finance Minister Jatti yesterday warned that the State was facing a financial crisis and said that the next two years would be finacially bad and the people had to face more difficulties.

Addressing the State Non - Gazetted Officers' Conference here, he said, that the huge projects on which crores of rupees had been spent had not yielded the expected results. Added to this they had to pay very heavy loan instalments and interest every year. This year it was about Rs. 13 crores. This was being met from the normal resources. "And if we go on spending this way, we may face difficulty in even meeting salary bills of our employees. This has worried me and perturbed me a great deal".

Sri Jatti told the NGOs that out of the budgeted revenue of the State Government, one-third was being spent on the civil services and any additional spending on this would have adverse effect on the vital services.

The Finance Minister rejected the demands of the NGOs for adoption of Madras rates of the house rent allowance in all areas of the State.

As regards the plea for removal of disparity of pay scales between the Central and State Government employees he said, it hinged upon the State resources and this could not be considered at present. Linkig the D.A. with the cost of living index, it also depended on the resources of the Government.

Referring to the demands of providing free education to the children of NGOs, Sri Jatti said, such exemptions could not be restricted to one class of citizens namely, the Government servants.

The demand for representation of NGOs in the Legislature, it was superfluous he said.

He also turned down the request for treating the NGOs as backward for the purposes of securing admission to their children in the educational institutions, as in any such scheme the Government servants should not claim any such privilege.

Smt. Mary Devasia, President of the State NGOs Association, presided.

Mysore, Dec. 16

Finance Minister Jatti yesterday warned that the State was facing a financial crisis and said that the next two years would be finacially bad and the people had to face more difficulties.

Addressing the State Non - Gazetted Officers' Conference here, he said, that the huge projects on which crores of rupees had been spent had not yielded the expected results. Added to this they had to pay very heavy loan instalments and interest every year. This year it was about Rs. 13 crores. This was being met from the normal resources. "And if we go on spending this way, we may face difficulty in even meeting salary bills of our employees. This has worried me and perturbed me a great deal".

Sri Jatti told the NGOs that out of the budgeted revenue of the State Government, one-third was being spent on the civil services and any additional spending on this would have adverse effect on the vital services.

The Finance Minister rejected the demands of the NGOs for adoption of Madras rates of the house rent allowance in all areas of the State.

As regards the plea for removal of disparity of pay scales between the Central and State Government employees he said, it hinged upon the State resources and this could not be considered at present. Linkig the D.A. with the cost of living index, it also depended on the resources of the Government.

Referring to the demands of providing free education to the children of NGOs, Sri Jatti said, such exemptions could not be restricted to one class of citizens namely, the Government servants.

The demand for representation of NGOs in the Legislature, it was superfluous he said.

He also turned down the request for treating the NGOs as backward for the purposes of securing admission to their children in the educational institutions, as in any such scheme the Government servants should not claim any such privilege.

Smt. Mary Devasia, President of the State NGOs Association, presided.
